In Killing Of Rights Worker

Klansman's Trial Opens; Prosecutor Handles Case

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — over the Wilkins case last month. At the same time, he took over Gamble's duties in the trial of special Deputy Sheriff Thomas L. Coleman in another civil rights slaying and asked Judge T. Werth Thagard to postpone both cases. Thagard refused, and, in swift succession, ousted the attorney general from the Coleman case and reinstated Gamble as the prosecutor. Coleman, charged with manslaughter in the shotgun slaying of Jonathan Daniels, a Keene, N.H., seminary student, was acquitted on a self-defense plea. Despite Thagard's refusal to grant a delay in Wilkins' trial, it became necessary to put it off because the Coleman trial took precedence. A special term of court starting today then was ordered to hear for a second time the murder indictment against Wilkins. When Wilkins, 21, was tried last May for Mrs. Liuzzo's death, a deadlocked jury caused a mistrial. The charge against the stocky Fairfield, Ala., mechanic was reset for the October term of court. Wilkins was defended by Klan attorney Matt H. Murphy Jr. during the four-day trial in May. Murphy was killed in a car-truck crash during the summer and the young Klansman hired former Birmingham Mayor Arthur J. Hanes as his new attorney. Hanes, a former FBI agent and a member of Gov. George C. Wallace's unpledged electoral slate in the 1964 presidential elections, also represents two other Klan members charged with Wilkins with killing the Detroit housewife near Lowndesboro in March, 1965. The other defendants — Eugene Thomas, 42, a steel company employee, and William Orville Eaton, 41, a retired steelworker — have not been tried. Mrs. Liuzzo, mother of five children and wife of a Teamsters Union official had come to Alabama to help Negroes in their struggle for voting rights.

During Action In Viet Nam

Red Launcher Smashed; Five U.S. Planes Downed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. jets smashed a Soviet-supplied missile launcher in North Viet Nam over the weekend, but five American planes were lost in other raids on the Communist North, a U.S. military spokesman reported today. Four of the American airmen were presumed captured and two others were killed when three Navy planes were lost Sunday 40 miles north of Hanoi, the spokesman said. Two U.S. fliers were listed as missing after two Air Force jets were lost Saturday on a raid southwest of Hanoi. Peking broadcasts claimed seven U.S. planes were downed and several pilots captured in North Viet Nam, which has threatened to try captured American pilots as war criminals. Four A4 Sky Hawks and an A6 Intruder from the U.S. 7th Fleet carrier Independence hit the mobile antiaircraft missile unit with eight tons of bombs. Pilots said they left a missile smoking on the ground and launchers and 10 vehicles in flames. The missiles, supplied by the Soviet Union, are believed accompanied by Soviet technicians. There was no mention of personnel casualties at the site, 52 miles northeast of Hanoi. U.S. aircraft are known to be hunting at least five of the mobile missile units, which can be assembled or dismantled within 24 hours. The Defense Department says five U.S. planes have been knocked down by Soviet-supplied missiles. Launchers are permanently installed around Hanoi and the port of Haiphong. Pilots on the missile raid reported heavy ground fire but all five planes returned safely, a spokesman said. However, heavy Communist ground fire knocked down two F4 Phantoms from the Independence and a third crashed into a mountain side during a 16-plane strike against a highway bridge north of Hanoi, the spokesman said. Returning pilots said four of the Americans parachuted and were seen on the ground. Enemy troops were spotted in the area. U.S. briefing officers said Communist ground fire downed one F105 Thunderchief and another disappeared during a four-plane raid Saturday 70 miles southwest of Hanoi. The pilots were listed as missing. The U.S. planes downed over the weekend brought to 114 the number lost in Communist territory since American planes began attacking targets in North Viet Nam last February. Near Da Nang, 380 miles north of Saigon, two U.S. Marines were killed in a helicopter crash. Eight others escaped injury. In ground action, the Viet Cong hit a government force 20 miles north of Saigon and inflicted heavy casualties on a Vietnamese unit of 75 to 100 men. U.S. Marines near Da Nang killed three Viet Cong guerrillas and captured three others in several clashes. Marine casualties were termed light.

Wargo Plans To Suggest Data Processing System

LISBON — A proposed data processing system, to reduce the time required for handling records in the county recorder's office, will be submitted for approval to the commissioners Thursday, Recorder John Wargo said today. The new method provides for a speed-up of indexing, a copy of records being sent to Columbus for processing by placing all data on punch tape, then onto punch cards and finally on magnetic tape for security purposes. This information then can be fed into IBM equipment and will make possible printing and re-grouping of all data into new records books for the county. These new record books can be printed by IBM machines, owned by the Cott Index Co., at the request of the county recorder or when attorneys or abstractors require them. The system operated by Cott would cost about $3,400 annually, according to Wargo, who said it would eliminate much duplication of effort now necessary to process deeds, mortgages and other papers. Wargo said the present system has not been updated for years, the office procedure having been modified only slightly since 1802. "Since our county now has over 107,000 residents, we have outgrown a system sufficient for the past. Over half of the deeds and mortgages owned by the county since its beginning have been compiled after 1930," he said. "This flow of papers will increase as the county grows, and

State Senator Loses Life As Auto Wrecks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Sen. Robert C. Blackburn of Dayton, the only Negro to serve in the legislature's upper chamber in a generation, was injured fatally Sunday in a traffic accident on Interstate 71 south of here. The Ohio Highway Patrol said the 45-year-old Democrat was driving northeast on the superhighway when two cars in front of his apparently reduced their speed. Officers theorized that Blackburn applied his brakes, causing his station wagon to swerve to the left into the medial strip. The senator was thrown from the car as it turned on its side and it rolled over him. He died a short time later at Mount Carmel Hospital. Death was attributed to a crushed chest. Blackburn was the first Negro state senator since Harry E. Davis of Cleveland, who served in the 1930s. Blackburn was appointed to the Senate last January to complete the term of Sen. John C. Smith, who resigned to become a Montgomery County commissioner. Blackburn formerly was a bailiff in Dayton Municipal Court for 14 years. Chalk 'Note' Reveals Fate Of Victims

Three Others Escape Before Fire Blocks Off Exit

SARDIS, W.Va. (AP) — Rescue workers today found the bodies of the last four men trapped inside a smoldering coal mine near this central West Virginia town. They were found together deep in the mine, where a fire already had claimed three lives. Shortly before the bodies were found, rescue workers discovered a message scrawled in chalk on a mine regulator. It said, "Couldn't get across," and was signed with the names of the four men trapped since Saturday night. E. E. Spotee, vice president of the Clinchfield Coal Co., said the men apparently had started toward the fire and were forced to go deeper into the mine which runs six or seven miles back into a mountain. The last victims to be found were Clell Leedy, 53, of Bluefield; Robert Savage, 57, of Rosemont; Isaac Moats, 39, of Moatsville, and Andy Kurusz, 44, of Galloway. Bodies of two miners, who died from smoke inhalation and lack of oxygen, were found early today. They were Carl Banish 45, Lost Creek, and Kennedy Kerr, 53, Belington. The first man found, Charles Lantz, 26, Buckhannon, was brought unconscious from the mine late Sunday night. He was dead on arrival at a hospital in Clarksburg, six miles away. Lantz, Banish and Kerr were found in an area about three-fourths of a mile beyond the point where a mining machine cut a power cable, touching off the fire. Relatives of the remaining men stayed at the entrance of the Clinchfield Coal Co.'s Mars mine through the night, along with several clergymen. Many had been there since shortly after the fire broke out. "I refuse to give up hope," said Mrs. Leedy. She and several other women complained there were no doctors on the scene. George L. Judy, Clinchfield president, also was hopeful the men would be found alive. "Naturally, the longer they're in there, the less chance they have," Judy said. "But I've known cases where men who barricaded themselves lived for days." Ten men were in the mine when the fire started. Three, who were operating the continuous mining machine, escaped after vainly trying to extinguish the blaze. They were Jerry Povroznik, 22, Albion Zbosnik, 30, and Bernard Keener, 47, all of Clarksburg. Keener, a mine foreman, said flames suddenly shot up from the power line as the machine passed over it. "We spent about 20 minutes fighting the fire, but there was just too much smoke."

Wreckers Get Busy As Fair Doors Close NEW YORK (AP)—Wrecking crews start today tearing down most of the buildings on the 646-acre fantasy land of the New York World's Fair which ended its two-year run with a record one-day attendance of 446,953. Widespread pilferage and vandalism marred the final day Sunday. Fair officials announced a 1965 attendance of 24,459,168 and the two-year attendance as 51,607,448. Before the fair opened last year, they had predicted a two-year attendance of 70 million.

FBI Picks Up Man In Draft Card Case WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents today seized David J. Miller, 22, who publicly burned what he claimed to be his draft card during a public rally protesting U.S. involvement in Viet Nam. Two agents arrested Miller on a street in Hooksett, N.H., as he left a hotel and walked to a nearby garage. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Miller was arrested when he failed to produce required draft documents. Miller, a former student at Lemoyne College, Syracuse, N.Y., burned what he said was his draft card Friday at the beginning of a long weekend of nationwide demonstrations protesting the U.S. role in Viet Nam. They are sincere, are they being led on by Communists and Communist sympathizers? Frank Empsak, chairman of the National Coordinating Committee to End the War in Viet Nam, said Sunday in Madison, Wis., that more than 70,000 persons took part in Saturday's demonstrations in scores of cities. Judges Question Reapportioning

CINCINNATI (AP)—A federal court panel said today "it appears to us that the Ohio Senate has not been apportioned substantially on a population basis."

The court acted in a suit filed by Clarence Blosser of Logan, who claimed apportionment of the Senate is unconstitutional. The court denied a motion by Senate leaders Theodore M. Gray of Piqua, a Republican, and Frank W. King of Toledo, a Democrat, to intervene as defendants in Blosser's suit. The three-judge panel did not rule for or against Blosser, but ordered the case be consolidated for further proceedings with other apportionment suits filed by James D. Nolan and Leonard M. Sive. The Nolan and Sive suits deal with the makeup of the House. The federal panel called for proposals to redistrict both House and Senate after the legislature was unable to agree on a plan for the lower chamber. It was generally believed that reapportionment of the House was all that was needed because the Nolan and Sive suits knock-

2-Man Ohio Crime Spree

Kidnaper Slays Woman When She Flees In Canal

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A woman was kidnapped and shot to death, her companion was robbed and a policeman was shot at in a one-hour, two-man crime spree in the neighboring suburbs of Valley View and Independence. Mrs. James Kosciwicz, 46, struggled in the dark to keep from drowning while her kidnaper on shore reloaded his pistol early Sunday. She came to the surface in 10 feet of dirty Ohio Canal water. The man fired six more times, killing her with a shot in the forehead. "I felt the only chance we had was to jump into the canal," Harry E. Scott told police. Scott, 38, said he had grabbed the woman in an attempt to es-

Coast Guard Saves 35 On Refugee Boat

Shuttle From Cuba To U.S. Increases In Open-Door Plan

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Thirty-five seaskick Cuban refugees, including two blind boys, were rescued from a leaking 35-foot fishing boat and brought to Key West today. Also aboard the rescue Coast Guard cutter were four refugees, picked up from a small motorboat and eight crewmen of the two refugee craft. They brought to 59 the number of refugees arriving at Key West today and to more than 500 the number who have fled Fidel Castro's Cuba under a new open-door policy announced three weeks ago. "I am glad to be in the United States," said blind, 20-year-old Vicente Sierra. "I don't like communism." Castro has banned departures of military-age youth, but Sierra was permitted to leave because of his handicap. Accompanying him were his brother, 12 and also blind, and their father, Juan, who said he was a member of the Cuban army for 36 years. "There is much discontent with Castro's armed forces," said the father. "I believe something will happen." Arriving earlier aboard the cabin cruiser Nimo were 20 refugees, including two sweethearts who said they wanted to get married in a religious ceremony — "Something we couldn't do in Cuba." Minor Quake Rattles Southern California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An earthquake which rattled Southern California and touched off a series of aftershocks Sunday was rated at 4.2 on the Richter scale—severe enough to crack walls. The original quake, at 2:45 a.m., caused no extensive damage, police reported. It was most severe in Palm Springs, where police received reports of cracked chimneys and window glass.

Backing Auto Hurts Woman

Bumped by a backing auto, a woman pedestrian was treated for arm and knee injuries Saturday night at City Hospital.

Mrs. Alice Mae Bowers, 58, of 314 1/2 Market St. was taken to the hospital by ambulance after the mishap on E. 5th St. near Crook Alley. She was treated for abrasions of both knees and the left wrist and elbow.

Emma J. McCormick, 47, of Chester R. D. 1 told police she didn't see the woman when she looked to the rear preparatory to backing. She said she didn't realize she had struck anyone until a bystander shouted at her as she started to pull from the curb.

Mrs. Bowers said she didn't see the backing auto until it struck her.

A Steubenville man escaped injury early yesterday when he failed to negotiate the sharp curve at Harvey Ave. and Elizabeth St. and his car went into the yard of the Adkins Lumber Co., striking a parked auto.

Hubert Terry Jr., 23, told officers he was unfamiliar with the street and was unable to negotiate the bend while west-bound. His 1960 auto struck the parked car of Ida Sanford, rear 401 Elizabeth St.

William L. Keys, 19, of Annesley Rd. reported to police yesterday morning at 8:25 that the 1962 sedan owned by Ronald T. Keys of Glenn St. was damaged by a hit-skip motorist while parked in the Roma Cafe lot on Dresden Ave. about 12:30 yesterday morning.

City Visitor Hurt In Attack By Trio

A Birmingham, Ala., man remained in City Hospital today with a head injury which he said he received when beaten by three men Saturday night.

Randolph Bowlin, 56, is in "fairly good" condition with a laceration of the scalp after being struck with a stick.

The victim told police he was seated on the steps at the Salvation Army building when the men attacked him. He said he walked to Market St., where he was seen by an employee of the Travelers Hotel who called police.

Richard Bishop, 26, of 1211 Lisbon St. was treated at the hospital Sunday afternoon after being found lying alongside of Lisbon St.

Bishop was spotted by Patrolman L. E. Richard, who was headed up the hill in a cruiser. He told the officer that he had become dizzy and fallen.

'Outstanding Airman' Rating Given City Man

Airman 2C Clare J. Campbell, son of Mrs. Fred Campbell, 2111 Crawford Ave., has been selected "Outstanding airman" of the quarter for his unit at Goose Bay Air Force Base in Canada.

Campbell, a radio repairman, was honored for his "exemplary conduct and duty performance." He is a member of the Air Force Communications Service which maintains and operates a global system of air traffic control, navigation aids and communications.

His wife, Eileen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Barish of R. D. 3, Burgettstown. He formerly resided in Hookstown and is a graduate of South Side High School.

in population which have occurred since its adoption and that the provisions in the Ohio Constitution which require said apportionment of the senate are in violation of the 14th Amendment of the United States and are thereby null and void."

The U. S. Supreme Court Standards on reapportionment referred to concerns the court's recent "one-man, one-vote" rulings. Judges on the panel are Paul C. Weick, Carl A. Weinman and John W. Peck.

In a stipulation of facts, tables showed the amount of populations in each district. The major difference showed one district with a population of 169,853 with two senators and one with 456,931 people with only one senator.

Gray and King had sought to enter the Blosser suit in an attempt to show, they said, that the best system of electing senators is the one now in use.

McElroy Believes Furore Will Ease

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John McElroy, executive assistant to Gov. James A. Rhodes, says he thinks most of the adverse comment about the new legislative reapportionment plan declared law over the weekend "is just shooting from the hip."

"I think that as Democrats examine it, they will be pleased and may not even challenge it," McElroy said Sunday.

Democrats, in assailing the new reapportionment plan, had promised there would be a court challenge.

A panel of three federal judges in the process of formulating a reapportionment plan when the new remapping was announced by the State Apportioning Board Friday—could knock down the new plan. McElroy promised that if that is done, the board, made up of the governor, state auditor and attorney general, will appeal.

"It is unlikely that the federal judges will reject the plan," McElroy said. "First, because they would not want to interfere with the orderly processes of government and second, because there is a February filing date to consider." Feb. 1 is the deadline for candidates for the legislature in next year's elections to file.

"It is a fair plan," McElroy went on. "It may take away some of the Democrats' advantages in certain areas, but it also takes away many Republican advantages... just say it deprives either party of any undue advantages."

McElroy said if the three-judge panel rejects the plan, the board's appeal would be direct to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The reapportioning law is similar to Issue No. 3, the proposal defeated at the polls last May.

It subdistricts metropolitan counties for election of representatives and senators.

Reapportionment Hit In Gosney Statement

Don R. Gosney, Columbiana County Democratic chairman, today issued a statement styling as "these three bandits" the three officials who drew up a plan for reapportionment of the Ohio General Assembly.

He referred to Gov. James A. Rhodes, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe and Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, authors of the plan which calls for a 99-member House and a 33-member Senate. The three officials said the plan was drafted in compliance with the U. S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" ruling.

"If we allow these three bandits to get away with this, we might as well do away with the State Legislature entirely," Gosney said. "That will eliminate the reapportionment problem!"

"They held secret meetings with no one in the state of Ohio knowing about them and they came out and tell the press this is a suggestion," Gosney said. "A few hours later, the governor's stooge comes out and says it is the law of the state."

"How three men can cut up the state in a political pie is beyond the comprehension of most voters," Gosney said. "I am contacting all the Democratic chairmen in the state to make sure they advise the people what these bandits have done so that they can be turned out of office in 1966."

Gosney contended that State Sen. Edmund Sargus was "gerymandered" out of the 20th District in the realignment drawn up by the three state officials. Belmont County, in which Sargus resides, was made a part of the 20th District.

Columbiana County would be part of the 30th District, along with Harrison, Jefferson, Carroll, eastern Tuscarawas County and the city of New Philadelphia.

Gov. Rhodes' board said, in effect, that if Sargus wishes to run for a new term in the same district next year, he must establish a residence in it by Nov. 1.

Miller became the first person charged with destroying a Selective Service System draft card in violation of a new law signed by President Johnson Aug. 30. It carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Youngstown Senator Takes Slop At Plan

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. Thomas P. Gilmartin, D-Youngstown, has criticized the state administration's legislative reapportionment plan in a letter sent to the federal court considering the issue.

Gilmartin told the three-judge panel that the plan has never had a hearing nor been discussed at any of the reapportionment hearings conducted on the subject.

He also asked the court: "Why did the administration have only one political party involved in drafting this plan?" He also wanted to know, he said, where the money came from to advertise the administration plan in the newspapers.

Refugees

Cuba, to Key West has increased the U.S. Cuban colony but an expected stream of boats appeared delayed. One refugee boat was feared sunk.

Two others made it Sunday, bringing a total of 44 refugees from Fidel Castro's island. There was some feeling that delay in stepped-up crossings, for which the Coast Guard had prepared itself over the weekend, could mean that an agreement with Cuba over a systematic exodus plan sought by the United States might be near.

New arrivals claimed red tape in processing applicants at Camarioca, the port of exit, delayed departures.

The captain of a fishing boat that landed in New Orleans with six refugees aboard said he would rather stay in jail in the United States than be free in Cuba.

With Capt. Guillermo Quintero, 41, the captain of a 32-foot fishing boat, were his son, two other men and two boys, aged 16 and 17. The boys said they were boat crewmen and had no plans to leave Cuba.

The boat became disabled and was towed into New Orleans Sunday by the Coast Guard.

Coast Guard craft made a futile day-long search after receiving a radio message, "We are sinking." The message said the boat was 40 miles south of Key West.

Currently, exiles in the United States go to Camarioca in defiance of warnings to await a U.S.-Cuba agreement. Then they return with persons authorized by Cuba to leave.

The Coast Guard, which previously intercepted the boat owners to tell them they were violating the law, meets them and escorts them to Key West.

Manuel Franco of Miami, owner of a boat, brought 38 refugees and said "facilities for larger boats are being built at Camarioca. Additional housing for departing persons also are under construction."

Miami and Florida officials have expressed concern about the new influx of refugees. An estimated 180,000 Cubans have fled their country since Castro took over in 1959. An estimated 100,000 have settled in the Miami area, officials said.

Gov. Haydon Burns has conferred with federal officials about the federal program for resettlement of the refugees to other parts of the United States.

Both cars stopped on a bridge over the Ohio Canal in Independence. The driver of the car with California plates — identified by police as Podojil — got out.

Independence patrolmen Pat Discenza and Edward Timinski drove by and asked if there was any trouble. Podojil said he was Scott, with a pistol at his back, agreed with the story.

The police drove off, but stopped about 50 yards down the road. Scott drove on by, but police came back to question Podojil again. They arrested him when he could show no identification.

Timinski took Podojil's auto and Discenza, with Podojil beside him, followed. Discenza said they had driven about a mile when Podojil pulled a gun and said he was "a three-time loser" and that he was going to kill him.

He told Discenza to turn around. The officer turned into a driveway but first blinked his lights at Timinski. Podojil fired a shot past his face and said, "Don't get smart cop or the next one's through your head," Discenza said.

The officer turned around and stopped at an intersection. When Podojil turned to see if Timinski was following, Discenza grabbed the revolver. Timinski arrived and they took Podojil into custody.

Capt. Louis J. Narduzzi of the Independence police department said Podojil told him he and Alameda had stolen a car in California and had been in Akron three days.

Castro's Brother Set For Kremlin Meeting

MOSCOW (AP) — Deputy Cuban Premier Raul Castro had a meeting today in the Kremlin with Deputy Soviet Premier Vladimir Novikov, the Soviet news agency Tass reported. It gave no details.

Castro, Fidel's younger brother, came to the Soviet Union Oct. 7 at the invitation of Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky.

Some Thoughts On Education County-Wise

There are many avenues which must be traveled in the pursuit of new educational ventures. Such programs present many facets with their accompanying problems, and final decisions never come easy.

Though it would not be advisable to consider drawing a definite conclusion in the case of the proposed Columbiana County Community College before completion of a comprehensive survey now under way, there have been developments which we consider compelling enough for some thoughts to be advanced on the area's higher educational program.

LAST FRIDAY in Columbus, the Ohio Board of Regents took two steps of definite concern to the county in an educational sense. It shelved action on the establishment of a technical institute district at Salem because the proposed district failed to meet the statutory population of 50,000 and it granted the trustees of the proposed community college additional time in which to complete their survey of the county's educational needs.

Which brings us to this question: With the Salem branch of Kent State University already firmly established and with the East Liverpool branch giving every indication of being here for years to come, would it be advisable to go deeper into the liberal arts phase of higher education at the expense of a badly needed comprehensive countywide technical program?

With accredited college educational level programs already in force at each end of the county — and easily accessible — additional liberal arts courses do not appear to be the primary need at this time. A centralized, properly-planned and properly - administrated technical school does, however.

With the mechanical age becoming ever more mechanical and demanding, training in the technical skills cannot be overdone. Not only would the individual benefit from such a program, but the county and even the immediate area as a whole would benefit as well.

TRAINING in the technical fields would help build a manpower pool which readily could serve businesses and industries already established and at the same time act as a magnet for industries contemplating moving into the area. Skilled labor on an adequate basis is one of the key requirements in consideration of plant sites.

The community college trustees have not overlooked this phase of the educational program, proposing to have technical training included in the instruction which would be provided.

Such an intertwining of the structures might suffice for awhile, but there is reason to believe that because of the tie-in with universities and because of the credits offered that it would not be too long before the technical phase of the training would be swallowed up by the liberal arts aspect.

Unless the survey now being conducted offers indisputable evidence to the contrary, it appears that a centrally - located technical institute could be the best answer to the county's educational needs. Along with the university branches at East Liverpool and Salem it would become part of a comprehensive, sensible program.

Let The Other Fellow Know

Seldom does a day pass that Municipal Court here or various area courts are not confronted with traffic cases of a "bumping" nature resulting from pure carelessness.

And with heavy fogs becoming more prevalent, the danger of "chain" accidents is increasing. Only last week at least 13 vehicles were involved in a series of mishaps on the Smiths Ferry - Calcutta Rd. during fog.

All of which leads up to the necessity, for safety's sake, of letting other drivers know what your next move will be — and in plenty of time. It could mean the difference between a safe trip or one that ends in an accident.

The Columbiana County Motor Club point out that "whether the move is a change of direction, a switch in lanes, reduction of speed to a complete stop, communication between drivers often is the only thing standing in the way of an accident.

"Traffic volume is ever on the increase and the importance of a clear, accurate signal given in plenty of time for other motorists to react to it, goes up with the number of vehicles."

Ohio law requires that a change of direction, stop or sudden decrease of speed of a motor vehicle must be preceded by a signal either by hand or automatic turn signals. Failure to comply calls for a fine of up to $50 for a first offense.

This should be remembered, however, that even after a proper signal, the planned maneuver should not be started until the motorist is certain it can be completed with safety.

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: You were wondering how many people I've known who could argue dispassionately.

I am sorry you asked.

I never have known anyone who could argue with me dispassionately, though I have known dozens I could argue with dispassionately.

There's a difference.

People cannot keep their fur down while arguing with me. I make them mad.

What started out as an exercise in forensic footwork turns into an attempt to kill, as far as they are concerned.

While I am still thinking about the dialectics of the situation, they are closing in for the death embrace. It makes them furious when I tell them I'm not in the mood to die.

The only way to make an even match is to temper the argumentative wind to the dialectical occasion, so to speak—and this is hard to do.

With me, as with most people, the only way to argue is to go all-out to win.

We hear how lawyers go all-out in the courtroom, then have lunch together as the best of friends.

I have been told legislators do this, too—argue themselves blue in the face, insult each other and almost come to blows, then retire to a quiet nook for a friendly drink.

Lawyers and legislators are professional debaters. They are like professional wrestlers, who stage exhibitions of their skill, then get into the same auto and drive on to the next town.

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:

As one old hospital habitue to another, it might be fun for us to compare notes on President John's recent operation.

He was able to walk into Bethesda Naval Hospital under his own power. All the staff who dared were lined up in the corridors to see him and grasp his outstretched hand.

A vote is where you find it. . . .

THE PRESIDENT is led to his room and a nurse says, "Okay, Mr. President, take off your clothes, get into bed and I'll be right with you."

His face lights up.

He undresses, gets into bed but no nurse. Someone from the business office of Bethesda materializes with a questionnaire.

"Your name, please?" says the faceless functionary from the business office.

"Lyndon Baines Johnson, 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D. C."

"Do you own that house?"

"Almost," he says.

"H-m-m. Who is paying your bill there?"

"America," he says.

"What is your religion?"

"Texas and the Christian Church."

"Thank you Mr. President," said the business office person.

He just about gets his head back down on the pillow when a lab technician in a white frock shows up with a sinister-looking tray of vials, test tubes and hypodermic needles. But still no nurse.

"Roll up your sleeve," says this person.

"I've have my sleeves rolled up for years," he says.

"I'm looking for a good vein," says the person with the needle.

"That's strange. Your skin is tough but the needle went in very easily. Hold still now."

"I'm not used to holding still when someone is needling me," he says.

"It will all be over in a minute."

"That's what they told me about Viet Nam, Santo Domingo, Cuba and the 14B filibuster."

"There now, that wasn't bad was it?"

"No but it is just like all those other things. I'm bleeding," says the President.

"Nurse. . . ."

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Odd Facts

The earth's largest living things, the giant sequoia trees of California, sprout from tiny seeds resembling rolled oats, and it takes 3,000 of these seeds to make an ounce.

The cities of Syracuse and Buffalo, New York, lead all other U. S. cities in average annual snowfall.

The only truly bald-headed president of the United States was John Quincy Adams (1767-1848).

If He Really Means It!

Hatters Union Chief Ignores 14-B

By Victor Riesel

From the Ozarks to the Okefenokee Swamp and on to the Rio Grande, the mad hatter, Alex Rose, is a man to be reckoned with by all the land—not only because he is a confidant of presidents, not only because he is the New York Liberal Party leader to whom John Lindsay found his way, but because he has personally repealed prohibition on the anti-union shop law known as 14B.

Mr. Rose, whose avocation is saber-rattling and saberdancing politics, is by occupation international president of the Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers Union.

To give himself time for his hobby, including being a sort of latter day Bernard Baruch to mayors as well as presidents, Alex, the Rose, as FDR used to call him, simply ignored 14B.

This was not as difficult as it seems, not even in the South and Southwest wherein are most of the 19 states which ban the union shop as a prerequisite for holding a job.

MR. ROSE and his colleagues simply decided that no hat, cap or millinery manufacturer could put a union label in his product unless at least 97 per cent of employees signed up with the union.

The manufacturers could not use the union label even if they were signed up with the union if the 97 per cent quota was not reached in the plant.

Thus the employers themselves, in effect, became the union's business agents. They made the rounds of their own plants urging the workers to sign up.

Otherwise, they reasoned, what would be the sense in paying higher wages and operating their shops on shorter hours if they could not get the benefit in the big city markets of putting a union label in the hat.

The union has great influence in the urban centers. It puts on tremendous union label "education" programs in concentrated labor areas such as Pittsburgh, Chicago and New York, where millions of workers are label and class conscious.

"AS A RESULT," said the elated Rose recently "there is not a single, important Southern shop, or in Texas either, which is not organized. Fourteen B has not stopped us. This is the one union which has used the union label as a new dynamite weapon, to beat 14B, and we don't have a single important factory without a 97 per cent membership. I predict the rest of labor will follow suit."

Mr. Rose's predictions have been 98 per cent accurate. But he does forecast a Lindsay mayoral victory in New York. So he is a chance taker.

However, whether the rest of the labor movement seizes on his tactic really is not the issue. Actually 14B has been only an inconvenience to the top leadership of America's unions.

What really deeply concerns them is 14B's symbolism. It's in a sense important upmanship. They see it as a symbol of their political strength—and from such strength comes new force in the Congress to get vital new laws, such as a 35-hour week and a higher minimum wage.

THAT'S WHY they have been spending millions of dollars to fight it. And, in turn, that's why the employers have been spending millions of dollars to preserve it.

Unions, even those as nonpolitical as the Musicians' Federation, dispatched hundreds of telegrams to their locals, which in turn sent thousands of wires to their district people, who in turn beat the bush to get out the force to beat on the doors of senators.

Three national labor leaders even acknowledged they were Republicans. One, the Retail Clerks' James Suffridge, often talked of as George Meany's successor, joined with the Glass Bottle Blowers' Lee Minton and the Carpenters' Maurice Hutcheson in wires as fellow Republicans to GOP senators urging them to end the filibuster.

BUT IT WAS a lost cause. President Johnson for the first time since he became President was off his timing. There just was no time for a full fight. And this was a battle which had to be waged for unconditional surrender.

You were either for 14B or against it. There was no room for jockeying with amendments. No one could give a little to get a lot. And it all got caught up in end of session fatigue.

But like Banquo's ghost, it will be back again next January when a filibuster could hold up operations of the government by preventing appropriations, and delay special pet projects of each senator for the duration.

And labor is preparing for battle. This time it will choose its own timing.

To the voters of East Liverpool — our tax money has finally got to work.

The 12 women that went to Council meeting a few weeks ago (relative to the cutting of weeds) got more action in City Hall than I've seen in several years. They even woke the dog catcher up. Let's switch party lines and elect the woman council candidate.

Oh yes, and we do have a choice this time for city solicitor and, in my opinion, we sure do need a change.

We are still hoping for a favorable decision in federal court on the city income tax.

Have you noticed our property taxes raising? The year of 1961 my taxes were $64.58 for six months. The same property tax this year is $172.32 for six months. Before one increase hits the tax statement it seems another is on the ballot.

There is only one thing to do. If another is voted, raise the rent to help pay it. In this meeting referred to earlier, Councilman Sample remarked he was proud of our town. Are you?

Appeasement Talk

Speeches Undermine Aim Of Peace

Sometimes the speeches of men in public life not only are baffling, but, though intended to advance the cause of peace, often do just the opposite by creating the impression of a willingness to appease. Thus is the enemy misled into the kind of miscalculation that in the past was brought on two world wars.

British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart, for example, has just delivered an address in San Francisco urging that Red China be admitted to the United Nations. At almost the same time, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., made a speech in the Senate urging that Red China be invited to participate in the 17-nation conference on disarmament at Geneva.

Both speeches are in direct opposition to the foreign policy of the United States as expressed by the State Department—which, incidentally, is not happy about either utterance.

Foreign Secretary Stewart admitted that, although Great Britain had recognized Red China—an event which occurred prior to the Korean War—nothing substantial has been obtained since then by way of benefits. But he asked a rhetorical question as to what benefits the United States had derived from its policy of non-recognition.

Mr. Stewart's question has been answered again and again—the United States at least has dramatically demonstrated to the world that aggression will not pay.

THE MILITARY FORCES of the United Nations itself were attacked in Korea in 1950 and the war there enlarged through the direct intervention of the Red Chinese. Tens of thousands of Americans, as well as troops of other countries fighting under the flag of the United Nations, were killed or wounded in an effort to repel an obvious act of aggression by Communist China.

The Korean armistice, which has been in effect since 1953, has been violated again and again by the Red Chinese. Literally hundreds of conversations have taken place at Warsaw and other places between representatives of the Peking regime and the United States government in a futile attempt to break the deadlock over the armistice agreement and make a peace treaty enabling the North and South Korean peoples to be reunited.

Yet Sen. Robert Kennedy is willing to have the Red Chinese invited to the sessions at Geneva on the subject of disarmament, even though this might mean throwing that conference into confusion by dilatory moves made by the Red Chinese, who have no respect for any agreements or moral principles.

RED CHINESE leaders were in Geneva in 1954 when an attempt was made by the Western nations to reach some kind of settlement about the future status of Indochina. Those very agreements have since been violated by Red China.

The United States has found it necessary to come to the aid of the South Vietnamese government in order to repel a series of aggressive actions by the Red Chinese.

The real question is not what is to be gained by admitting Red China into the United Nations or inviting the Peking regime to a disarmament conference. It's what the world will lose. It would mean that a government can get away with any kind of brutal aggression it may care to pursue. It would mean also that nations like the United States, which have stood up for the liberation of peoples and the abolition of autocratic rule, would be out in the position of appeasing tyrannical dictatorships and buying peace at any price.

IT'S TRUE that the Red Chinese are beginning to develop nuclear weapons and that other nations will be doing the same. But as long as the scientific knowledge is available, practically any nation will eventually be able to produce nuclear weapons no matter what agreements are made.

There is only one defense against any potential aggressor. It's to build up such military and nuclear power as will deter any government in the world from threatening the safety of the American people. No agreement is worth the paper it's written on if the government back of it cannot be trusted.

It's this fact which is the principal barrier to disarmament agreements and certainly there is nothing in the record of Red China which gives any evidence that the Peking regime is ready to join the family of free nations and honor international agreements.

AP Group Meets

Retain Freedom, Editors Warned

DOVER, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Associated Press editors were warned Sunday against agreeing to any sort of rules which might diminish the right of freedom of the press.

John T. McConnell, attorney who serves as counsel for the Philadelphia Bulletin, addressed editors attending the fall meeting of the Associated Press Society of Ohio.

McConnell said forces are at work today to try to diminish in some ways the constitutional guarantee of press freedom by limiting news coverage of criminal cases in advance of trial. Noting that some bar associations have proposed so-called codes of ethics to define what newspapers should do in pre-trial publicity, McConnell cautioned editors against agreeing to any formal statement which might limit what newspapers could print.

Some lawyers and judges have been restricting pre-trial publicity since publication of the Warren Report on the assassination of President Kennedy, he said. Although the Warren Report only questioned the number of newsmen covering the assassi-

Firemen At Chester Quell Fire In Big Rig

Chester volunteer firemen were summoned about 9:20 this morning to extinguish a fire in the rear of a tractor-trailer parked on Carolina Ave. at 7th St., near the Rock Springs Park entrance.

A broken bearing on the rear axle was blamed for the blaze. Firemen managed to confine damage to the bearings and breaks.

The rig's driver, Joe Allison of East Liverpool, turned in the alarm. The owner of the tractor was listed as the Enko Lease Co. of Dover. The trailer owner is T. I. McCormick of Woodbridge, N. J. The cargo was molten sulphur.

Class Of 1933 Plans 33rd Reunion In May

The 33rd reunion of the Class of 1933 of East Liverpool High School will be held in May, it was decided at a meeting of class members Saturday night at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

The exact date and place of the reunion have not been determined, Robert A. Kapp, class president, said.

Committees were named to secure a place, contact class members and teachers and arrange decorations. Class members were asked to contact Kapp at 517 Broadway.

Contractor Completes East End Resurfacing

Resurfacing of Route 39 in the East End from State St. to the Ohio - Pennsylvania line was completed Saturday, the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry said today.

The final phase of the project — applying a 10-inch wide coat of sealing compound along both curbs over the entire length — was started late Saturday morning after work was delayed for several hours because the street remained wet from Friday's heavy rain.

The Belmont County firm held a State Highway Department contract for the work in which the city's share was $8,000.

3 Levies Backed By No. 16's PTA

Three levies were endorsed by the No. 16 Parent Teacher Association when it met Friday night in the Southern Local School.

They include a one-mill levy for the school for retarded children at Elkton and a 1.8-mill renewal levy and an additional 3-mill levy for operating expenses of the school district. Jack Baker, superintendent of the Southern Local School district, spoke on the levies.

Mrs. Dorothy Price, membership chairman, reported the group has 130 members.

Mrs. Lucille Huston and John Ewing, candidates for the Board of Education, spoke. Remarks were given by Mrs. Freda Schubert, principal, concerning National Education week Nov. 8-12. John Grescucki screened slides of the retarded school at Elkton. The room count of parents was won by Mrs. Edna Spring's fifth and sixth grades. Lunch was served by first grade homeroom mothers. The group will meet Nov. 19.

Precinct Staffs Advised

'Flash' Count Scheduled On Vote In Mayor's Race

The County Election Board will make its traditional telephone "flash" count of returns on the East Liverpool mayoralty race within minutes after the polls close at the Nov. 2 general election, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today in detailed instructions prepared for precinct personnel.

A special directive prepared especially for the precinct workers inside the city limits calls for them to make an immediate quick count of the returns on the contest between George E. Willshaw, the incumbent Republican, and Robert Owen, the Democratic nominee.

THE FIGURES then will be telephoned to the Election board's office, which will maintain a running total as each precinct reports. The "flash" count always is completed in less than an hour after the polls close—sometimes in 40 minutes or less, depending upon the size of the vote.

The polls throughout Columbiana County will be open from 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

After finishing the "flash" count on the mayor's race, the East Liverpool precincts will begin the usual order of tabulation, reporting their figures to the Election Board in two sections. Except for the "flash" count, the East Liverpool precincts will report to the board via messenger.

The second count, following instructions from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, will cover three statewide issues and a county tax levy—a 1-mill tax for constructing a school and workshop for the mentally retarded.

Countywide returns will be completed on the four issues before the tabulation moves on to the rest of the races and the special issues.

In East Liverpool, the second precinct report will cover returns on the city office—type ballot from mayor through ward councilmen; the Municipal judge on a separate non-partisan judicial ballot; the Board of Education races and local questions and issues.

OUTSIDE East Liverpool, the precinct workers will make the first tabulation on the three state issues and the county tax levy, then telephone the report to the proper district collector. The second tabulation will cover municipal or village, township, board of education and local questions and issues.

To expedite the tally, presiding judges will be instructed to divide their personnel into two or more counting teams, making certain both Democratic and Republican parties are represented on each team.

O'Hanlon emphasized that state law requires precinct officials to post in each polling place copies of the entire text of the proposed state issues and a pamphlet issued by the secretary of state. The law requires this action because the proposals are too exhaustive to be printed on the ballot in their entirety, he explained.

He also pointed out there is no so-called "straight ticket" voting on the office-type ballot. A crossmark must be used to the left of each candidate's name for whom the elector wishes to vote.

PERSONS inside the voting place or in line at 6:30 p. m. must be permitted to vote, but no one may be allowed to join the line after 6:30, O'Hanlon pointed out.

State law permits use of "any instrument at hand" in marking ballots, the clerk said. This means that ballots marked with ink or other means as well as the customary lead pencil must be counted, he said.

He also instructed precinct personnel in detail about so-called "disputed ballots," asserting:

"There is no excuse for a flood of disputed ballots. Exercise of common sense and a majority vote of the four judges should enable precinct officials how to count a ballot.

"In the event part of a ballot is counted but a dispute develops regarding the elector's intention in voting for candidates for certain offices, the precinct officials should tabulate the undisputed part of the ballot, then indicate on the back of the ballot the disputed and uncounted part before placing it in the "disputed ballot" envelope.

Every precinct will have at least four ballots—the state proposals; the county tax levy, township and Board of Education ballots. Many also will have ballots on local questions or issues. In addition, every city or village will have a municipal or village office type ballot.

East Liverpool and Liverpool Township also will have a non-partisan judicial ballot listing Judge Samuel M. Chertoff's unopposed candidacy for a new term.

Dr. Krasik, of Squirrel Hill, was a native of Charlevoix. He was senior consultant to the Atomic, Defense and Space Group of Westinghouse.

Area Resident Wins Honors As 'WAC Of Week'

A Hammondsville area resident has been nominated by her co-workers as "WAC of the Week," Army Times reports in this week's issue.

She is Spec. 4 Sara L. Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Martin of Hammondsville R. D. 1.

The blue-eyed blond works for the Transportation and Equipment Division, Drivers Test Unit, at the White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico.

She entered the WAC March 4, 1964. Her brother, Elmer R. Martin, enlisted in the service last week.

Spec. Martin's hobbies include bowling, swimming and horseback riding.

Palestine Event Set On Thursday By Homemakers

EAST PALESTINE — A holiday tea will be sponsored Thursday from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m. in the Covenant United Presbyterian Church on E. Main St. by three homemaker groups.

They are the Unity Township Progressive organization, the East Palestine Homemakers and the Busy Mrs.

Mrs. Glen Huston, Mrs. Roy Coblenz and Mrs. Emery Coons will serve as the general committee.

Various projects will be displayed, with instructors at each table. Included will be items for Christmas gifts and decorations. Demonstrations will be held throughout the day.

The public is invited to attend, committee members said.

Weather Postpones Jump From Balloon

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Weather forced a 24-hour delay in today's scheduled attempt of a parachutist to jump from a helium-filled balloon at an altitude of about 113,000 feet.

Backers of the project rescheduled the balloon launching of Nicholas J. Piantanida, 33, of Brick Town, N.J., for Tuesday morning. They said there was too much cloudiness and winds were adverse today.

Piantanida hopes to break the sound barrier in free fall before his parachute opens at an altitude of less than one mile. The project is intended to test needs for stabilizing devices in free fall and to study the effect of sonic speeds on the body.

Toronto Man Shot

TORONTO — Edward Rock of Toronto was one of the casualties Saturday in the opening of West Virginia's hunting season. Shot accidentally by a hunting companion near Elkins, Rock was hospitalized there with wounds of the right hand and arm. The hospital said his condition was not serious.

Firm handrails installed in the bathroom will help prevent bathtub accidents.

What Every Person Should Know

WHAT IS A DEATH CERTIFICATE?

A death certificate is the legal document which we as funeral directors must file in the case of all deaths.

It must be signed by four individuals:

The person providing the necessary information for its completion.

The attending physician.

The funeral director.

The registrar of vital statistics located in the area where the death occurred.

The registrar will then issue a burial permit and for a fee of one dollar each as many copies of the certificate as necessary for life insurance, veterans benefits, estate purposes, and other benefits.

For answers to any questions you may have regarding funeral service, ask for a free copy of our booklet "What Every Person Should Know". Write, phone or stop in.

like it over here, but it's my duty as a soldier to be here."

U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, in Chicago Sunday night, said the Justice Department has begun an investigation into the movement and has uncovered "some Communists and some persons very closely associated with Communists" working for the Students for a Democratic Society.

"Whenever you have a situation similar to what is being said by Peking, you are likely to find some Communists involved in it," Katzenbach said, then added: "There are some Communists involved in it."

The SDS claims a membership of 300,000, mostly college students.

The demonstrations, in various cities from New Haven, Conn., to Hawaii, were noisy but for the most part orderly. Heckling by antidemonstrators from the sidelines contributed to the uproar.

In New York City, where more than 10,000 anti-war adherents marched down Fifth Ave. Saturday, there were several fist fights and the hurling of eggs and red paint, but police kept things from getting out of hand.

In Rochester, N.Y., the state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars threatened to make a citizen arrest of David Miller, 22, of Syracuse, N.Y., who publicly burned his draft card during a demonstration in New York.

Destruction of draft cards has been made a federal violation.

The VFW commander, Vincent J. DiMatta of Brooklyn, said if Miller was allowed to go free "we are allowing the seeds of dissension to be sown in the midst of Americans."

Wisconsin Gov. Warren P. Knowles, commenting Sunday on the arrest Saturday of 11 demonstrators at the gates of Truax Air Force Base, Madison, as they attempted a citizen arrest of the base commander, said the demonstrators "have done a great disservice to themselves."

BURTON WARD
Lodge Picks Chester Man.

Burton G. Ward Elected In Area Masonic Office

Burton G. Ward of Phoenix Ave., Chester, has been elected district deputy grand master of the First Masonic District in West Virginia.

Ward is a past master of the Chester lodge and a member of the Hancock Chapter of Royal Arch Masons, Knights Templar in Weirton, and Osiris Temple Shrine in Wheeling.

He is associated with the Ohio Valley Gas Co. in East Liverpool.

Ward was elected during the 101st communication of the grand lodge in Huntington Thursday.

Hundreds Jam Roads To View Fall Splendor

Hundreds of Tri-State District motorists took to the highways Sunday to view autumn foliage at its most colorful stage.

Encouraged by a brilliant sun that lent added luster to the browns, golds and reds of the leaves, motorists crowded roads in the rural areas.

The Ohio weatherman said today also will be sunny and warm with a high of 78-83. Tonight's low will hit 47-54. Tuesday will be sunny and continued warm.

After World War II, hundreds of workers toiled for years to put surviving material in the proper place for the reconstruction of the Benedictine Order's most revered monastery, the Abbey of Montecassino in Italy. It had been bombed. Italy made the abbey a national monument in 1866.

Appeal Board To Study City Tax Protests

A three-member Board of Tax Review was established over the weekend to rule on appeals from decisions of the city income tax department.

The board is comprised of Donald Mackey of the Mackey-Coleman Agency; Harold J. Allison of the Crook Furniture Co., and Vincent Laneve of the Ohio Valley Gas Co., who is president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mackey was appointed by Mayor George E. Willshaw and Allison was named by Treasurer Bert A. Dawson. The two appointees then named Laneve.

The income tax ordinance makes provision for appointment of the board—one to be named by the mayor, one by the city treasurer and the third by the other two appointees.

The legislation provides that any person dissatisfied with a ruling on a city income tax question may take his cause to the review board within 30 days. The board has the power to affirm, reverse or modify the original ruling.

The members will serve without pay, the legislation provides. They will remain in office as long as the tax ordinance is in effect, it adds.

A tax-payer who is dissatisfied with a ruling of the Review Board may take his appeal to the courts, the tax ordinance provides.

Legislation requires that the board will conduct its hearings privately because the law makes it illegal to disclose data on a tax-payer's income. The legislation allows the board to make its own procedural rules and keep a record of its transactions.

Flowers Blasts Klan On Eve Of Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alabama Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers has blasted the Ku Klux Klan on the eve of congressional hearings as a "vicious, perverted" band of social and economic failures.

In a report released here Saturday, Flowers described the secret hooded order as "the worst instincts of mankind" — and one some Southerners still fail to take seriously.

"With few exceptions, the Klansman has no economic or social standing in his community, and most who appear at rallies are portraits of despair," the report said. "People laugh at them in their sheets and robes."

But, the report added, the violence the Klan has spawned in the 1960s "is no laughing matter."

Public congressional hearings into the Klan get under way Tuesday. One of the first witnesses before the House Committee on Un-American Activities may be Robert Shelton, head of the United Klans of America, largest in the South.

Flowers said he had not been summoned to testify.

His report, involving six months' investigation, estimates that Shelton's United Klans has more than 5,000 members in Georgia, Alabama, the Carolinas, Tennessee and Louisiana. Its Alabama membership is put at 1,500 to 2,000.

This conflicts with a figure of 50,000 given by committee investigators in sizing up the United Klans.

In an interview, Flowers described his report as an educational weapon aimed at shaking citizens from an apathetic attitude toward the Klan.

Klan members have been implicated to some degree in 12 of 17 widely publicized racial murders in the South since the Sept. 15, 1963, church bombing in Birmingham which killed three Negro girls, the report says.

"In none of the 12, however, has there been a felony conviction," it said.

Levy For Retarded Backed By Hillcrest-Fairview Group

The Hillcrest - Fairview Parent - Teacher Association has endorsed a countywide 1-mill levy that will appear on the ballot at the Nov. 2 election to construct a school and workshop for mentally retarded persons.

The action was taken at the unit's meeting Thursday night. Other business conducted by Vincent Imburgia, president, included renewal of the subscription to the National Geographic magazine. The group decided to donate $25 to the Citizens Committee for Better Schools to help defray advertising expenses.

Mrs. Zeta Penn, ways and means chairman, spoke on the progress of the minstrel to be presented Nov. 19 and 20 at the Grange Hall. She announced committee chairmen. Mrs. Kathy Riddle, membership chairman, announced 45 have joined to date.

Lowell Myers, superintendent of Wellsville Schools; William Menough, high school principal, and Don Lowe, Daw Junior High School principal, further discussed the school bond issue. Phil Cronister, Jay Williamson, Harold Reed and William Ferrell, candidates for Board of Education, explained why they are interested in the position.

The Rev. James Sanko, pastor of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church, was in charge of devotions. The fourth grade taught by Mrs. Mary Ann Potts won the attendance banner. First grade homeroom mothers with Mrs. Dolores Ralston, chairman, served refreshments.

The next meeting will be Nov. 11 with second grade homeroom mothers in charge of the lunch. Selections in Part 1 of the "Hayloft Minstrel" to be presented under the auspices of the PTA at the Yellow Creek Grange Hall are announced as follows:

Vocal solo, "Your Cheatin' Heart," Norman Clark; vocal solo, "Feudin' Fussin' and Fightin'," Mrs. Phyllis Thrasher; vocal solo, "Shotgun Boogie," Chuck Potts; vocal solo "A Good Man is Hard to Find," Mrs. Wilda Shafer; vocal solo, "How You Goin' to Keep Them Down on the Farm," Vince DeFilippo; Homeretta and Jethrine act, Mrs. Myrna Deem and Mrs. Arlene Lanam; harmonica solo, Frank Netti.

Anyone interested in being in the chorus should be at an announced rehearsal.

Some Anti-Tax Statements Called 'False, Misleading'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A National Education Association team sent here to study the proposed sales tax increase says some statements made against the issue have been "false and misleading."

The three-member committee made a study of arguments over the proposal at the request of the Ohio Council for Education, the group which placed the issue on the Nov. 2 ballot.

The proposal calls for increasing the state sales tax from 3 to 4 per cent to provide an estimated $116 million a year in additional state funds for public schools.

Studying the issue were Dr. William McClure of the University of Illinois, Dr. Eugene P. McLoone of George Washington University and Mrs. Jean Flanagan of Washington, an NEA research official.

They said opposition arguments contained in a fact sheet mailed to Ohio voters by the secretary of state's office amounted to "misinformation of the worst kind."

The state is required by law to acquaint voters with both sides of an issue to be decided in an election. The pamphlet mailed by the secretary of state's office contained both pro and con arguments.

The NEA team rejected as "unwarranted" the opposition claim that the sales tax increase would hurt the children of low income families.

It said the proposal provides "substantial funds for the children of low-income families and leaves the decisions of programs to the local districts to work out under the assurance that state aid will share the cost."

The committee said all school districts, rich or poor, would benefit from the proposal, as compared to the distribution effective last year.

Navy May Build 20 Cargo Ships

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy is considering building about 20 big, fast military cargo ships that would be loaded with tanks, other heavy equipment and supplies and stationed near potential trouble spots. Such a fleet of "fast deployment logistic" ships would cost about $640 million, by current Navy estimates.

Coupled with house-size C5A transport planes recently ordered into production, these cargo vessels would give the United States the capability to speed large ground forces to distant areas, and to have the gear close at hand to enable them to fight in limited war situations.

The Navy study has the blessing of top Pentagon officials, who consider the fast deployment ships an integral part of modernized U.S. airlift-sealift for the 1970s and beyond.

However, Pentagon officials have not settled on any final figure as to the numbers of such ships that would be needed, nor have they adopted the Navy's cost figures.

The Navy study estimates each of the new vessels would cost about $32 million. Defense specialists are skeptical of that figure, believing it may be too low.

Congress has voted $67.6 million for two of the ships. This comes to $33.8 million apiece, with the additional $3.6 million attributed to higher costs of first-of-their-kind models.

The cargo ships would have about twice the capacity, greater speed and, hopefully, lower operating and other costs than current Navy sealift vessels.

They would be equipped with ramps to permit rapid loading and unloading of wheeled and tracked vehicles. This is called a "roll-on, roll-off" capability. Under the plan, the craft would be powered by a new propulsion system similar to an aircraft-type gas turbine engine. The speed would be about 20 knots.

Church Group Plans Dinner At Summitville

SUMMITVILLE — Plans for a public turkey supper at the Bethesda Presbyterian Church Oct. 27 were made at a committee meeting Saturday night at the church.

The meal will be served from 5 to 8 p.m. family style in the church dining room. The chairmen are Mrs. Ray Grubbs, dining room; Mrs. Earl Rogers, kitchen; Pete Marra, tickets, and Roy McKarns, parking.

Gosney Waits Session

COLUMBIANA — Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, Democratic chairman of Columbiana County, was to leave today for Washington, where he will attend a meeting of state chairmen from throughout the United States Tuesday. The session will include briefings by top government officials and a dinner at the White House.

Reid Densmore, president, conducted the business discussion. Plans were made for a Thanksgiving dinner Nov. 12 at Platt's Tea Room in Wellsville.

Following the meeting, games were played, under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kountz.

A 6 o'clock covered dinner was held Friday night by the Wesleyan Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church in the Fellowship Hall. Thirteen members and one guest, Miss Luella Thompson, attended.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Nettie Scheffer. Prayer was led by Mrs. Stella Millward.

Get-well cards will be sent to Mrs. Grace McHenry, Mrs. Eunice Hogenfeld, Mrs. Etta Harrison and Miss Ruth Rumberger, members who are ill. A proposed visit to the Newtucket Nursing Home was discussed.

Mrs. Frances Taylor provided piano accompaniment for group singing.

Mrs. Scheffer, secretary, presided.

Games were played following the meeting.

Miss Ann Allison was program chairman. Hostesses were Mrs. Maude Logan, Mrs. Daisy Richmond, Mrs. Gay Dornan and Miss Daisy Gilmore.

Table decorations consisted of fall flowers and lighted tapers.

The next meeting will be Nov. 19 at the Fellowship Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Watkins of Grant St. entertained the Willing Workers Class of the Pleasant Heights United Brethren Church in Christ Friday night.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Carrie Watkins.

Three songs, "Precious Lord Take My Hand," "Constantly Abiding" and "The Solid Rock," were sung by the group.

Readings were presented by Mrs. Francis Walker, Mrs. Lucy Day and Mrs. Nell Pelly. Mrs. Grace Barnhart gave a prayer.

Charlie Barnhart sang a solo, "The Cross Is Not Greater Than His Grace."

George Walker offered the closing prayer.

During the business discussion, financial reports were given by Mrs. Lucy Ensinger and Mrs. Margaret Doland. Mrs. Bessie Hughey, president, reported on a missionary in Africa and a boy which the group is assisting to support.

Thirteen attended.

Lunch was served by the hostess, with the assistance of Mrs. Hughey and Mrs. Frances Walker.

The next meeting will be Nov. 19.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

To Break Habit, Check The Cause

A strong dash of reason can help to break up an endlessly repeated pattern. But it helps enormously to look into the cause. The working - wife in today's column writes:

"I have a problem with my weight. I had gotten down to 170 pounds, but now I'm back up to 183. I work five days per week. Most of the time from seven to eight hours a day. The trouble seems to stem from my nervousness. I find myself at times pushing hard to clean, wash, iron and do two days' work in one. By the time I finish, I am so nervous that I just glut. I have been to the doctor; now he says I have to do it on my own."

A CHANGE of pace could not only lighten your load, but it will give a lift to life. Also, you need to analyze what is back of your compulsion to pitch into work at such a furious pace. Do you build up tension as you work, or are you working in an attempt to dispel your pent-up tension?

It would appear that the work and the satisfaction of having a scrupulously clean house does not fulfill some intense need. So then you turn to food. To use your phrase, you glut.

It will do little good to try to stop the overeating until you develop some insight into why you repeat the pattern. In other words, this is not a situation in which exerting will power would effect a change.

Life, to be satisfying, must be in balance. It cannot be just all work and no diversion. Excessive eating is usually a substitute satisfaction, but you cannot fill the gap with food. The excess eating simply creates another problem, overweight.

THE EFFECTIVE way to deal with the periodic overwork-overeating drive is to give real thought to the underlying cause. You may need to talk with a family counselor or a psychologist to gain enlightenment into the reasons for your self-perpetuating fattening cycle. Oftentimes a single session with a trained specialist can help amazingly.

On your own, try to make a change in your work routine. Would a new piece of household equipment lighten the work load? You might do the laundry one evening, and the next evening the ironing. The third evening, plan for some recreation. Know there is a solution to your problem if you'll tackle the basic cause of the tensions and make some changes in your way of life. Take hope and take needed action.

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Eat To Build Leanness And Isometric Exercises. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of the Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

'Pack Little Punch Within GOP,' State Leaders Say Of 'Birchers'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican state chairmen say the John Birch Society packs little punch within the GOP.

That was the consensus from Maine and Florida to Washington and California after Republican congressional leaders accused the militantly conservative organization of trying to infiltrate their party.

In a few states, party leaders told of takeover attempts by right-wing forces, but they said the efforts were thwarted.

Idaho GOP Chairman John McMurray said the society in his state "has no more influence in the party than a gnat on a jackass."

"I do not know of one John Birch Society member who is an official of the Republican party," McMurray said.

His colleagues in other states said there may be society members on precinct and state committees, but their number is small. Associated Press news-men interviewed GOP chairmen, John Birch Society figures and Republican officeholders in 45 states to size up the impact of the congressional denunciation.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky opened the attack by declaring that Birchers should be ousted from the GOP. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen and Rep. Gerald R. Ford, the GOP congressional leaders, lined up with Morton on Sept. 30.

"They are not now a part of the Republican party. They never have been and they never will be," Dirksen said of society followers.

Morton said in a speech, "Birchers of the left have a far stronger hold on the Democrats than any extremists ever have had or could have had in our party."

The consensus view of Republican state chairmen:

The criticism probably will not change much in the party itself, because there is little overt Birch influence to be changed. But it may help Republicans convince middle-of-the-road voters that the conservative society is not influencing party policies.

"I don't think there will be any particular impact on the party," said the West Virginia chairman, John Shott. "The denunciation was more for the edification of the public than the party."

Morton himself has said there are probably as many Democrats as Republicans in the John Birch Society. The organization claims 80,000 to 100,000 members.

A Birch leader in Connecticut, Thomas Davis of Stamford, said, "Our best guessimate is a little over 50 per cent are Republicans; I would say about 55 per cent."

Davis said the society is strongest in southern California. But even there, the state Republican chairman played down society influence.

"I know of no John Birch Society members in the leadership of the California Republican party," said Dr. Gaylor Parkinson.

"There are no plans to oust any Republican from the party in California."

Some other state GOP leaders said they suspect there are society members secretly at work within their organizations, but insisted the number is small.

In Michigan, GOP Vice Chairman William McLaughlin said society members "seem to be dedicated workers, and I don't think they'll be scared away."

Society leaders in Maryland and Delaware talked of trouble for the Republicans because of the congressional denunciation.

If Republicans "don't want support from us kooks and extremists," said a society director, Tom Anderson of Baltimore, "a lot of us are going to be coming out for a third party."

Phillip W. Gordon, a Birch section leader in New Castle, Del., said Republicans may lose some of their conservative contributors in campaigns to come.

"There's going to be a screaming plea for money," he said, "and a lot of conservatives aren't going to contribute if they don't have someone of Barry Goldwater's philosophy."

Goldwater has now suggested that Birchers could help the GOP by resigning from the society and devoting their time to the party.

Arizona's GOP chairman, Harry Rosenzweig, long a close friend of the party's 1964 presidential nominee, said he has seen no evidence of Birch efforts to infiltrate the party.

"They might be working in such a manner that I don't recognize it," he said. "I'm sure that there are some, but I don't know who they are. It is a small number."

Two Republican governors — William H. Avery of Kansas and Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon — offered different advice on dealing with the society.

"There's no place in the policymaking facet of the Republican party for the John Birch Society," Avery said. "But I have always held the position that we don't read anybody out of the party."

"Republicans cannot hope for Birch votes, but keep them out of the party and public office," Hatfield said. "They won't be content to be on the outside looking in."

In Washington State, the GOP Central Committee repudiated Birch members before the party's congressional leaders spoke out.

Washington Chairman C. Montgomery Johnson said Birch forces tried unsuccessfully to win control of the GOP organization in Kitsap County, Wash. Then the state committee passed a resolution, at the behest of Gov. Dan Evans, on qualifications for party leadership. Johnson said it drew a line between the GOP and the John Birch Society.

"We hope with these pressures to cause these people to review their own positions and find they will have to make a decision between the Birch society and the Republican party," Johnson said.

Florida GOP Chairman Tom Fairfield Brown said the Birch voice in his party is a very minor one. "They get more attention than their numbers warrant because they are so vocal," he said.

Brown said right-wing forces bid for power in the women's branch of the Florida party. "The tactics and activities of the Birchites were very evident in the elections, and this concerns me," he said.

In Houston, Tex., GOP County Chairman Jim Mayor said he had to battle to prevent a Birch takeover of the local party organization. He wrote Morton and other GOP congressional leaders, praising their stand against the society.

Nebraska GOP Chairman Walter Witthoff said he knows of 8 or 10 Birch members on his Central Committee.

"We know they are here," he said, "but there has been no effort to take over."

"Until they commit some act that warrants action, there are no grounds for attempts to remove them," Witthoff added. "It might be difficult to do. A lot of them are elected."

At least two society members are trying to win elections as Republicans, both in the Dakotas.

Richard R. Murphy, a member of the Orange County, Calif., GOP Central Committee before he moved to South Dakota, has announced he will run against Republican Sen. Karl Mundt in the 1966 primary.

In North Dakota, Martin Vaaler seeks the GOP nomination for the House seat now held by Democratic Rep. Roland Redlin.

Illegal off-track betting in this country is a $50-billion-a-year business, a Senate investigating committee has divulged.

Historians Slate Film Wednesday

LISBON — A documentary film on the expedition of Lewis and Clark will be shown by the Columbiana County Historical Association at a meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Village Hall.

Robert Kelm, president, obtained the film from Ted Yates, producer who is an executive of the National Broadcasting Co. The film originally was presented as an NBC documentary.

The purpose of the showing is to give an example of the type of motion picture that will be filmed here next spring depicting Sherman's march to the sea. Yates and an associate, Robert Rogers, attended the Railroad Centennial in July and thought Lisbon an ideal place for filming the proposed documentary.

The film also will be shown at a meeting of the Lisbon Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Johnson Slated To End Hospital Stay Shortly

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson reached the 10-day mark in his hospital stay today and probably will get out shortly.

Johnson got dressed Sunday for the first time since his gall bladder-kidney stone operation Oct. 8.

He attended devotional services in his hospital quarters, as he had the Sunday before.

He skipped a follow-up session with Navy dentists because, said Asst. White House press secretary Joseph Laitin, "He didn't want to bother the doctors on Sunday."

Johnson got his teeth cleaned and a filling replaced Saturday and probably will have another filling worked on today, Laitin said.

If the President follows what

He may be heading home to Texas — or possibly to some other spot — before the week is out.

Laitin said, though, he heard no discussion Sunday of when Johnson would check out of Bethesda Navy Hospital in the Maryland suburbs. He said the President seemed before he will feel in top shape, to be in fairly good spirits.

Harry Carter, son of Harry Carter of Maple Hill, Salineville, a puncture wound of the left foot on a nail; Kenneth Hull, son of Delbert Hull of 1164 Harker Ave., bruises of the shoulder while playing football.

Glenn Wilson of 314 Monroe St., a cut finger on glass; Diana Powers, daughter of Hubert Powers of Chester R. D. 1, a fractured toe against a chair.

Kenneth Burlingame, son of Harold Burlingame of Church St., bruises of the chest playing football.

Condition Of Stabbed Man Listed As 'Good'

Leroy Clark, 44, of Shreveport, La., remains in "good" condition today at City Hospital with a stab wound in the right side of the chest received during an argument early Saturday morning.

Elizabeth Edwards, 37, of Yonges Island, S. C., was treated Saturday for lacerations to the chest and thigh inflicted with a razor in the dispute.

The two were identified as migrant farm workers employed at Hillcrest Farm near Chester.

Ohio's Traffic
Kills 15 More

By The Associated Press

Three double-fatality traffic accidents helped boost Ohio's otherwise below-average weekend highway death toll.

At least 15 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents. Another two persons died in miscellaneous mishaps for a weekend accidental death toll of at least 17.

All three of the double-death accidents involved young people.

The fatalities:

Friday

James Seely, 17, and his sister, Carol, 10, both of Weston in Wood County, in a car-truck collision near Bowling Green.

John Bethel Bradam, 54, South Charleston, in the collision of his car with a truck near Harmony in Clark County.

Mrs. Betty Pau, 50, Dayton, in a two-car crash near Kettering.

Mrs. Ethel Schilling, 66, Newark, in a two-car collision east of Newark.

Saturday

Jerry Hickman, 20, Sidney, and Theodore John Lochefeld, 19, Fort Laramie, in a car-truck crash near Sidney.

James Lindsay Schwin, 21, and William H. Carroll, 18, both of Alliance, in a two-car crash near Salem.

Stanislaus Logine, 50, Cleveland, struck by a car near his home.

Grady Bishop, 61, Olmsted Falls, drowned in Lake Erie after falling off a boat near Vermilion Harbor.

Edward Plotz, 63, Hinckley, struck by a car near Brunswick.

Norman T. Buh, 63, Cleveland, struck by a car in Cleveland.

John Goshay, 54, Canton, crushed when his car slipped from a jack in his garage.

Sunday

William H. Rose, 45, Middletown, in a one car crash on a rural road near Middletown.

State Sen. Robert C. Blackburn, 45, of Dayton when his station wagon overturned on Interstate 71 south of Columbus.

Robert Miller, 9, New Lebanon when his parents' car collided with another auto near New Lebanon.

State Prize Won
For Projects Of Hancock Grange

The community progress committee of the Fairview Grange at Pughtown was awarded third prize at the West Virginia Grange meeting held at Jacksons Mill Thursday through Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Glenn, chairmen, announced today.

The award consisted of a plaque and $50 Savings Bond for a two-year project, which included a $300 scholarship given to James Proctor, 1965 graduate of Oak Glen High School, to attend West Liberty Branch College in Weirton; a $100 donation to "Dollars for Scholars"; 4-H and conservation camp scholarships and numerous charity contributions.

The group also will present a $250 nursing scholarship to a 1966 graduate of Oak Glen.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mills of Newell were Grange delegates.

New Strife Seen In Domingo Area

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — More violence is feared in Santo Domingo as the result of the killing of a conservative political leader.

The provisional government canceled all civilian arms permits in an effort to prevent shootings by vengeful friends of the slain man, Angel Severo Cabral, 56.

A heavily armed guard was thrown around the cemetery where Cabral was buried Sunday. The angry crowd burned a jeep of the government radio station and beat up its driver.

Another radio station which had supported the rebels went off the air after an unidentified armed group attacked its transmitters just outside the capital.

Cabral, leader of a right-wing political organization, was shot Saturday night at his home in the former rebel zone as a mob with Communist placards milled about.

His wife and daughter were slightly wounded.

Toronto Youth Cited In Jefferson Crash

No one was injured in a collision of two autos Sunday afternoon about 3 on County Rd. 213 at the intersection with County Rd. 51 in Jefferson County, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Winterville reported.

William Board, 22, of Toronto R. D. 2 was making a left turn onto Route 51, and Hayward J. Tolley, 18, of Toronto R. D. 2 was making a left turn onto Route 213 when Board's auto slid into Tolley's.

Tolley was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way in a turn, the patrol said.

District's Residents Over 65 To Receive Medicare Form

Every person in the Tri-state Area who is 65 or older and who is getting Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits has received or will receive through the mail full information about the new medicare program and a card to use in applying for the protection, Walter I. Kimbro, Social Security district manager in East Liverpool, said today. The medicare application form, which recently was described by President Johnson as "the simplest form in the history of the government," now is being mailed out to two and one-half million beneficiaries across the country each week, he said. With it is a leaflet containing information on the two-part program — hospital insurance to pay hospital and related expenses, and a voluntary medical insurance plan to help pay doctors' bills. "Because this huge mailing will be spread out over several months, some people may get their information tomorrow, while others may not get theirs for more than a month," Kimbro said. "However, we hope to reach all of the area beneficiaries by December. The program goes into effect in July 1966. All Social Security and Railroad Retirement beneficiaries who are 65 or older qualify automatically for basic hospital insurance benefits. However, a beneficiary will get the added protection of medical insurance — available at a cost of $3 per month — only if he applies for it.

To do this, he could just check "yes" on the enrollment card, sign his name, and return the card in the postage-free envelope which came with it. Then, when the program starts in July, the $3 premium will be deducted each month from his benefit check.

Kimbro emphasized that most people 65 or older who are not getting Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits are also eligible for health insurance benefits. They should write, telephone, or visit a Social Security office to register for hospital insurance benefits, and, if they wish, for medical insurance also, he said. Anyone 65 or over who wants medical insurance protection should enroll no later than March 31, 1966, in order to be covered as soon as the program starts in July, he added.

Additional information on the health insurance programs and other changes in the Social Security law is available from the Social Security office at 740 Dresden Ave.

Odd Facts

The American victory at New Orleans, coming after the War of 1812 was over, had far-reaching effects, historians say. They say it hastened ratification of the peace treaty, increased the prestige of a new nation, gave Americans confidence in their military prowess and encouraged the growth of national unity.

By laundering the black slime that drains from cars undergoing an oil change, the nation's refiners — a fairly new industry — can produce lubricants reputed to be as good or better than the originals.

In 1910 National Geographic Magazine published "Scenes in Korea and Japan," a 24-page series that was the largest collection of color photographs that had ever been published in a single issue of any magazine.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: For those who want to iron curtains after a perfect wash job, and usually get them too wet, not wet enough, or wet in spots while they are still dry in others—here's an idea:

I put my curtains back in my dryer (even though they have been in the ironing basket for a week or so), wet a bath towel and partially wring it out. Then I turn on the dryer at the proper heat, and let them tumble about five minutes with the dampened towel.

This seems to cause a steam which soaks into the fibers of the curtains, and makes for perfect ironing every time!

BRAIN CHILD
True. Lots of women (and bachelors, too.) do their entire sprinkling job this way. HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Paper towel-eling comes in many colors, even with flowered or other borders.

These are very pretty when used as place mats, and can be discarded when soiled.

MRS. F. LYNGBERG.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm a busy mother and an active club-woman.

When I have a messy job to do in the house, I wrap a paper towel around the telephone receiver, and secure it with a rubber band.

Then, if I get any calls, and my hands are wet or dirty, I save a towel, time, and energy (no second cleaning job on the phone).

KARI BONDS.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: My wife would not be happy if she knew I called you "dear".

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a help for a child just learning to play with paper cut - out dolls:

With a crayon, mark the back of each doll, and the back of the articles which belongs to it, using a different color or design for each doll.

This helps the child sort out the articles pertaining to the different dolls and saves mother from having to separate them.

Even if one set were to get mixed in with another, the child can arrange them easily. My mother used this method for me when I was small, so I knew it worked then, as it does now for my daughter.

PEGGY J. COOPER.

DEAR HELOISE: The other day, while I was down town, I got some gum on the back of my dress.

I took a piece of adhesive tape from my purse, rubbed it gently on the gum, and got every bit of it off.

Keep a piece of adhesive tape in your purse for such emergency uses.

ANN BERENDES.

Ann is right! Scrape off as much of the gum as possible, then press the tape down on it. Then, pull straight up and the gum will come out of the fibers of the material.

Bless you for passing this hint along.

Deputies Cite Driver In Hancock Accident

Danny C. Bonner, 21, of Chester R.D. 1 was cited by Hancock County sheriff's deputies for driving without a license following an auto accident about 3:30 a. m. Saturday on Route 30 near Taylor's Bend, near Chester.

Deputies said the westbound vehicle he was operating struck a second auto driven by Roy D. Bolyard, 30, of Akron, resulting in combined estimated damage of $275.

Joyce Charnock of 223 Walnut St., East Liverpool, was cited for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate her vehicle.

Leaders See Final Week Of 1965 Season

WASHINGTON (AP) — With fingers crossed, Congress begins today what its leaders predict may be the last week of the 1965 session.

Only a few major obstacles stand in the path of adjournment. But veteran legislators have become accustomed to seeing adjournment targets missed, and legislative tangles have a way of developing at the last minute.

The seeds of such tangles are in several pending bills, particularly a measure to apportion foreign and domestic sugar quotas and an aid to higher education bill.

Both the Senate and the House have passed bills to aid higher education. But the House version did not include establishment of a national teacher corps to strengthen teaching in low-income areas.

Now that Senate and House conferees have included the corps in a compromise version of the bill, House Republicans have pledged a fight to knock the provision out when the compromise makes its final run through Congress.

The House takes up the bill Tuesday.

The sugar bill has cleared the House, and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said Sunday he thinks the Senate Finance Committee can complete action on the bill today.

If that happens, said Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, the bill will be brought before the full Senate Tuesday.

Both Dirksen and Mansfield said Congress could adjourn this week if it quickly disposes of the pending major bills.

A $4.2-billion appropriation bill carrying funds for the anti-poverty program and other projects passed the House last week. It is scheduled for Senate action early this week.

Last of the annual money bills, it would shoot total appropriations this year close to a record high of $120 billion.

Also scheduled for Senate action this week is a bill approved by the Senate Post Office Committee to give federal workers a $641.4-million pay raise this year.

The House has voted for a $1.55-billion increase. Johnson asked a $400-million boost.

Marxist Author Hanged In Effigy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Marxist author Herbert Aptheker was hanged in effigy early today in front of the administration building at Ohio State University.

The incident occurred prior to Aptheker's scheduled appearance on campus tonight which is being sponsored by the Students for Liberal Action.

Aptheker has been the center of a dispute involving the old campus speakers rule. Earlier, Aptheker was barred from speaking on campus when the rule was invoked and a number of student demonstrations resulted.

The rule, however, has been rescinded by OSU trustees.

Geneva Will Dedicate New Student Center

BEAVER FALLS — The Geneva College Student Center will be dedicated Wednesday beginning with a convocation ceremony at 11 a.m., in Metheny Field House.

The public is invited to attend the convocation, the ribbon-cutting ceremony and the placing of the cornerstone at the site of the new building at 12:15 p.m. The building will be open for viewing after the completion of the ceremonies.

Miss Judith McMillin, dean of women at Mt. Union College, Alliance, will be the speaker.

Ohio Set To Launch Mobile Youth Units

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes says Ohio will become the first state to put mobile Youth Opportunity Centers into service.

The federal government has authorized the state to hire 49 persons to staff the trailers, he said. The units will be used to interview, counsel and test youths in smaller communities.

Killed In Accident

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Eugene R. Bacheller III, 28, Batavia, Ohio, was killed Sunday at the intersection of U. S. 42 and Ky. 14 near here.

Death came when his car flipped over as he swerved to avoid another automobile, authorities reported.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm writing in behalf of my brother who is so mad he's actually cross-eyed. (One eye sort of goes over to the side when he gets excited and this morning he was madder than I have ever seen him.)

Oogie is 15 and has a mind of his own for which I admire him. He likes the Beatles and also the Rolling Stones.

A few days ago my Dad ordered Oogie to get a haircut. Oogie said he'd think about a trim but not an actual cut. Well, early this morning my Dad went into Oogie's bedroom with a pair of scissors and he whacked off big chunks of hair on the side and in the back. Oogie woke up a few minutes later and boy did he ever get mad. He screamed about liberty and human rights and the four freedoms. My dad said the freedom to let your hair grow like a sheep dog is not one of the four freedoms. Oogie said how a person wears his hair is his own personal business. My dad said as long as a kid lives in his parents' house, and eats and sleeps there, it is their business, too.

How do you feel about this?
—CUT TO THE QUICK.

Dear Cut: If there's anything I have no desire to get mixed up in it's a fight between a sheep dog and his parents.

If Oogie looked like some of the kids I've seen, I can understand why your Dad lost his temper.

I do feel, however, that your Dad should have laid down the law and ordered Oogie to get his hair trimmed instead of wielding the scissors himself.

Nervous Wreck

Dear Ann: My father was a successful but conservative businessman. He would never buy a used car because, in his words, "It's foolish to buy somebody else's trouble." When I told him I wanted to marry a divorced man, he used the same phrase.

Although I'm only 24 and have been married less than a year people who meet me on the street ask me if I've been sick. My husband has made a nervous wreck out of me with his fault-finding. I can't do anything to suit him. He has a terrible temper and is tight with money.

So, Ann, when women write and ask if they should marry a divorced man, tell them what my Dad told me—advice I was too stupid to believe: "It's foolish to buy somebody else's trouble."—WOULDN'T LISTEN.

Dear Wouldn't: Thank you for letting us know how it is with you, but the statistics disclose that chances for a lasting marriage are slightly better when one of the partners had had a previous marriage. Surprised? I was, too.

When you get to the two-time losers, however, the statistics take a sharp turn for the worse. And the more often a person marries after that the slimmer his chances for making a go of the next one.

Confidentially

TO SHOULD I OR SHOULD I NOT? You describe him all the qualities of a dog except loyalty. Tell him to get lost.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

How come 2,500,000 people in Ohio are insured by Metropolitan Life?

Your neighbors have really hit on something. They've discovered that when it comes to planning for the future, the place to start is Metropolitan Life—the company with a practical insurance program designed for today's needs and for any and every situation, including yours. For example:

New—the policy that helps pay for itself

If there's one time you don't need any extra expense it's when you're just starting out—raising a family or opening a business. Yet this is precisely the time when you do need plenty of life insurance.

That's where Metropolitan's ingenious new Econo-Matic policy comes in.

The minimum initial amount is $10,000. For this amount, the premium is considerably less than that of our standard policy with a guaranteed face value of $10,000.

The ingenious feature is this: while the guaranteed amount of insurance is lower after two years, application of dividends*—if present levels are continued—will maintain the original amount of coverage for life, for the same low premium.

The Econo-Matic is just part of the up-to-the-minute selection of life and health insurance plans you'd expect from America's leading life insurance company.

Shouldn't you get all the facts and figures from your Metropolitan adviser? (He'll give you an enlightening Family Security Check-Up, to boot.) Call him soon. Tomorrow, for instance.

There's no obligation . . . except to those you love.

More choose Metropolitan Life millions more than any other company

There are many reasons why Metropolitan Life insures 45,000,000 people—more than any other company. One good reason is local, personal service from the Metropolitan advisers at your nearest office:

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Discipline A Must At Bedtime

The mother who respects the clock in putting her baby to bed may find it very easy to lure him off to bed happy during his first year or so. He may enjoy the rhythm of regularity. But there comes a time when, to the youngster, many things he can see, hear and do grow so inter-Dr. Garry Myers esting to him that he would like to stay up longer.

Going off to bed means the young child giving up some pleasures. When this time arrives her holding rigidly to a schedule can make her way easier. "The clock says it is time to go to bed" can be more powerful than "It's about bedtime now," provided the youngster knows the clock rules.

IF THE tot is in the midst of building a house and wishes to put on a few more blocks and finish his structure, or if, after he has heard a few stories read, he begs for just one more, his mother may wisely let him have the extra few minutes.

But if he bids for more and more time indefinitely she may face problems. The smart youngster may invent all sorts of measures to delay going to bed.

Suppose your child, when you remind him that the clock says bedtime, shouts, "I don't want to go to bed," and wails and cries. Don't argue or threaten. Just pick him up and carry him to bed.

If you are calm and clever you may be able to wear down his resistance by the time you reach his bedroom. No sense in spanking him to make him go or because he shrieks or cries.

IF, HOWEVER, he kicks or strikes you, a sound, sharp slap on his bared thigh might be desirable. It would not make sense to scold or punish him after you got him to bed. The main thing is not to let him divert you from your course.

After you have gone through the usual ritual with him—tucking him in, a drink of water, a goodnight caress or kiss—say goodnight and go. If you suspect he might have fears when left alone, leave the door ajar with a dim light on outside it.

Suppose after a few minutes he begins calling, "Mama, Mama, Mama," and you go to him to minister to his wishes or mere whims. He may like this so much that he will think of ways to bring you back to him many times lasting over a total period of an hour or more.

Tomorrow night, as you are seeing him off to bed, say to him, "After I leave I am not coming back, unless you really need me." Then keep your word. It's desirable for you to remain in easy hearing distance to make sure you are available in an emergency.

IF YOU suppose he is beset with a strong fear, you might well walk by his door now and then making familiar sounds so he might feel more secure. You even might, in some instances, enter his room as if on an errand. But don't take him up then or cater to his whims.

If this does not work, he may tell you he wants to go to the toilet. If you sense this as a final stroke of his tyranny it might be better to risk his having an accident than to take him up.

During a discussion before a group of mothers, one mother told me she was "sure it wouldn't work. I tried it ten times last night."

Calling Dad or Mother back at bedtime will occur in many hundred thousands of homes tonight throughout our nation, and in as many tomorrow night. Some of the tots will be as old as six, eight or ten.

Consider the sleep lost by the child and the energy wasted by the parent. And how easily this problem could be solved permanently.

My bulletin, "Sleep Problems with Children," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Inmates Return Girl's 'Thanks' With Own Gifts

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP)

— A pretty teen-ager went to Indiana's state prison to thank a group of prisoners for sustaining her life and found herself the object of appreciation.

Marie Mauser, 17, of Indianapolis, has an incurable disease in which the bone marrow fails to produce blood. Warden Ward Lane read a newspaper account about the girl more than a year ago and 50 inmates volunteered to donate blood.

Since then prisoners have provided 78 pints of blood for Marie. The transfusions are "her only means of living," doctors said.

The donors applauded Marie's bravery when she appeared this weekend and presented her a television set, purchased with their commissary allotments, and a check for $90.

Fall Paint Tips

Bring Season Into Your Home

Why not fill your home with the sunlike brilliance of autumn to relieve the austerity of the winter months ahead?

It's so easy and economical to bring autumn's elegance indoors with paint.

Today, thanks to improved manufacturing techniques, paints dry faster, have less odor and are available in more colors than ever before, according to the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association of Washington, D. C.

REDECORATING a room or entire home with paint is similar to the delight of arranging spring or autumn flowers. In fact, sunny, daffodil yellows can be combined with chrysanthemum golds, tawny browns and deep amber shades of turning leaves for a striking, warm autumn decor.

Whether you're planning to do it yourself or have a professional brighten your home with paint, you'll be delighted with both the economy and decorating magic.

You can preserve the dew freshness of spring bouquets or capture the sparkling brilliance of autumn by selecting your favorite colors from paint samples furnished by your painting contractor or available at your local paint dealers.

Your painting contractor will have both the know-how and equipment for a professional application. But, if you plan to take brush or roller in hand, you'll find a variety of tools to make painting easier at your local paint dealers.

THERE ARE special rollers and brushes for painting trim and shields to protect the wall when you paint baseboards. You'll need an old sheet, dropcloth or newspaper to protect floors and furniture.

Clean up will be easier if you use water-base or latex paint for the walls; and a water soluble enamel for baseboards and trim. Enamel is best for painting woodwork, trim and doors because it resists marring and can be repeatedly washed without losing its bright color.

Be sure to read the directions carefully. The manufacturer will recommend thinning agents and cleaning agents. Don't take a chance on ruining your paint. For example, turpentine cannot be used to thin water-base paints or clean brushes after painting. By the same token, water cannot be used to thin oil-base paints.

Your dealer or contractor will help you select the right quality paint for the surface to be coated.

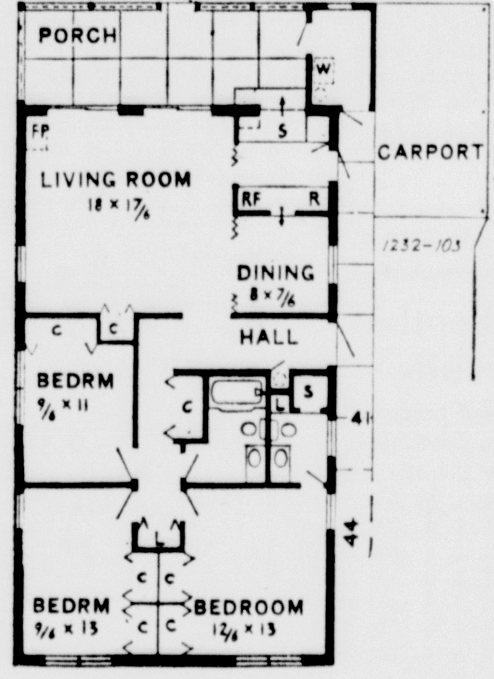

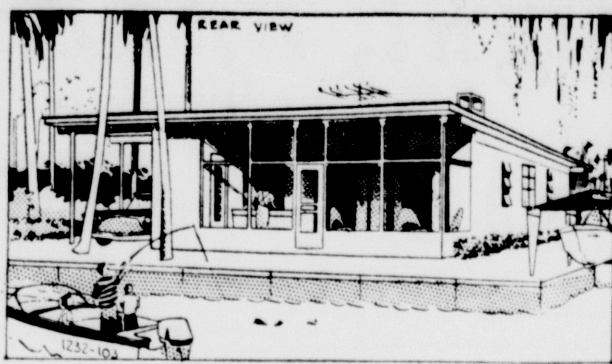

By selecting warm colors, your entire home will glow with warmth and sunlight during the drab winter months ahead.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 8-10 degrees above normal for the period Tuesday morning to Sunday morning. Representative normals are Cleveland high 61, low 40. Columbus high 63, low 41. Cincinnati high 67, low 45. Warm through the entire period with little day to day temperature change. Precipitation will average about two tenths of an inch occurring as showers Friday afternoon and Saturday.

'Floating' Cabinet-Table May Solve Kitchen Need

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

A clever idea in kitchen tables appeared recently which could be the answer for the home owner who is not altogether pleased with the location of counters and shelves.

It is a two-shelf and counter-top arrangement which can be swiveled around to any part of the kitchen you want. It runs on small ball-bearing casters and floats around at the lightest touch.

Pushed over to the range, it offers a handy rest for pots and pans which must be cleared off to make room for other utensils. Brought close to the sink or dishwasher, it is ready to receive a pile of dishes or silver. When not in use, it can be placed in any corner or left in the center of the floor to double as a kitchen table.

This cabinet-table can be made by any amateur, and with great ease. The usual dimensions are three feet on the long edges and 18 inches along the ends of the ell. The height is optional and may be whatever is most comfortable for the user. There is but one material used: half-inch plywood.

The table is made by cutting three ell-shaped pieces. These are then assembled and boxed in with sides, back and short side piece. The shelves do not need battens or supports beneath them, but are secured by nailing through from sides and back. When accurately cut, the assembly is stiff and sturdy.

The top may be covered with

Tips Are Offered For Painting Of Vinyl Material

Question: We have kitchen chairs with seats and backs of a vinyl material in red.

We have changed the decor of our kitchen and would like to make the chair seats and backs a bright yellow, but have been told that ordinary paint will not last very long on a surface that will be sat upon and leaned against.

Is this true? Is it necessary to give the surface special preparation? How many coats are needed?

Answer: The successful painting of a vinyl material which gets hard wear, such as seat cushions and backs, requires the use of a special flexible paint in the plastic family.

This paint is made by several manufacturers. The type we have had experience with comes in a kit that contains a bottle of paint, a bottle of cleaner-conditioner and a small, bristle brush.

The first step is to clean the old surface thoroughly with the cleaner-conditioner. When the material is completely dry, the first coat of paint is applied with the bristle brush.

Allow to dry overnight, then apply the second coat. In most cases, two coats are sufficient. But when a very light color is being applied over a dark color, such as in your case, a third coat may be necessary.

By MURRAY CHASS
Gale Sayers, who was greeted by skeptics at his coming out party, now has believers wishing he had stayed in.

The Chicago rookie created possibly the biggest explosion of the season Sunday, scoring the last four touchdowns—one on a 96-yard dash with a kickoff—as the Bears outlasted Minnesota 45-37 in the National Football League.

It was a performance that couldn't have left many, if any, doubts about Sayers' ability. There were some doubts when Coach George Halas introduced the University of Kansas halfback to the NFL at a party at a big Chicago hotel last winter.

The Bears showed films of Sayers in action, but viewers were skeptical, figuring that no one could be that good. The Bears just picked out his best plays, they said. The NFL would be different.

Five games later, Sayers looks as if they're still picking out his best plays. They came frequently against the Vikings.

Sayers twice put the Bears ahead in the second half, catching touchdown passes of 18 and 25 yards from Rudy Bukich.

He then put them ahead to stay with about two minutes left in the game, snaring Fred Cox' kickoff on the run at the four-yard line, shooting through the onrushing Minnesota tacklers and scampering the rest of the way untouched.

Sayers Leads Bears With 4 TD's

Shortly afterward he wrapped up the victory with a 10-yard touchdown run.

Talking about his kickoff return—the longest run in the league this season—Sayers said:

"I caught the ball and saw this wide hole in front of me. The blockers opened it wide. I just had to run."

All told, Sayers carried 13 times for 64 yards, caught four passes for 63 yards, completed the one pass he threw for 7 yards, setting up a field goal, and returned four kickoffs for 170 yards.

His 24 points, best game performance this year, rocketed him from a 10th-place tie in league scoring to a tie for first with Minnesota's Cox. Each has 48 points.

In other NFL games, Green Bay came from behind for a 31-21 victory over Detroit, Cleveland beat Dallas 23-17, St. Louis knocked off Pittsburgh 20-7, Baltimore walloped Washington 38-7, New York outlasted Philadelphia 35-27 and San Francisco crushed Los Angeles 45-21.

Green Bay fell behind 21-3 at halftime before rallying for the victory that kept them the only unbeaten team in the league. Bart Starr fired three touchdown passes in the third quarter, the third a 77-yarder to Carroll Dale, and ran for another TD in the fourth.

Three field goals by Lou Groza, one a 48-yard boot, kept Cleveland in front of Dallas and on top of the Eastern Conference with St. Louis. Jim Brown raced 10 yards for the Browns' first touchdown and Frank Ryan tossed 29 yards to Walt Roberts for the second.

A 71-yard scoring pass play from Charley Johnson to Bobby Joe Conrad early in the fourth quarter broke up St. Louis' close game with winless Pittsburgh. Johnson earlier hit Sonny Randle on an eight-yard scoring play.

Baltimore remained close to Green Bay in the Western Conference as Johnny Unitas passed for two touchdowns. The Colts' defense also helped send winless Washington to its fifth defeat, Al Haymond scoring on a pass interception and Billy Ray Smith setting up another TD with an interception.

Earl Morrall tossed for four touchdowns, giving New York a 35-7 lead before Philadelphia rallied for three touchdowns, all on passes by King Hill, in the second half. One of Morrall's scoring tosses was an 89-yarder to Homer Jones.

John David Crow and Ken Willard each scored twice as San Francisco built a 28-7 lead in the first half. Los Angeles never was in the game after that.

Mighty Texas Beaten, 27-24

Crockett's Catches Turn Arkansas Into Big Winner

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

One-hundred and twenty-nine years after one Crockett died defending Texas, another left the Lone Star State reeling. Not as badly as the Alamo perhaps, but reeling nevertheless.

Backwoodsman Davey might not have approved, but this Crockett is an Arkansas boy named Bobby and he had Texas eating out of his coonskin cap.

Crockett was quarterback Jon Brittenum's chief target on the 80-yard march downfield in the waning moments Saturday that brought Arkansas a thrilling 27-24 victory over top-ranked Texas.

He caught five passes on the drive including a diving grab of a 14-yard pitch that put the ball on the Texas one and set off a wild celebration on the Razorbacks' bench. On the next play, Brittenum smashed into the end zone and third-ranked Arkansas, which had blown a 20-0 lead earlier, was on top to stay.

Over-all, Crockett caught eight passes for 102 yards and one touchdown with a show that left Texas Coach Darrell Royal shaking his head.

"That Crockett made some fantastic catches," Royal mused later. "Lord, they were fantastic."

The victory was the 17th in a row for Arkansas—longest winning streak in the country.

And, while the No. 1 and No. 3 teams battled it out in the Southwest, second-ranked Nebraska blithely continued scoring points and winning easily.

The Cornhuskers, averaging five touchdowns per game, romped past Kansas State 41-0 for their fifth straight. Nebraska broke it open scoring 21 points in the second quarter after a scoreless first period.

Fourth-ranked Michigan State held Big Ten foe Ohio State to minus 22 yards rushing and walloped the Buckeyes 32-7. It was the first time in Ohio State history that the Buckeyes' famous "cloud of dust and a first down" rushing offense had been held to minus yardage.

The Spartans, unbeaten in five games and front-runners for a Rose Bowl berth, wrapped it up with 20 points in the final period. It was the second straight conference game in which Michigan State's defense allowed minus rushing yardage.

Two of the Top Ten teams were upset. Fifth-ranked Georgia, which had won four straight, fell to Florida State 10-3 and No. 10 Mississippi State lost to Memphis State 33-13.

Southern California, No. 6, blanked Stanford 14-0. Seventh-ranked Purdue used Bob Griese's late field goal to get past Michigan 17-15. Notre Dame, ranked eighth, was not scheduled and ninth-place Florida downed North Carolina State 28-6.

Elsewhere, Ohio State was no match for No. 4 ranked Michigan State as the big, fast Spartans buried the Bucks, 32-7.

The Spartans, gaining their fifth straight, handed Ohio its first conference setback. The crippled Buckeyes, who may not have defensive ace Dwight Kelley for Saturday's game at Wisconsin, now have a 2-2 season mark and are 1-1 in the league.

Xavier, riding the passing arm of Carroll Williams, came from behind to nip Ohio University, 21-19. Williams connected on a 40-yard touchdown strike to end Dan Abramowicz with only 1:31 remaining as the Bobcats went down to their fifth straight loss.

Williams, the brilliant junior, threw three touchdown tosses and set four school records in the victory.

Findlay got three touchdowns for NAIA All-America Allen Smith and easily stopped Ohio Northern, 31-3. Youngstown sophomore Dick Addipoti tallied twice, once on an 82-yard run with an errant pass, as the Penguins disposed of Augustana, 29-0.

In others, Muskingum nipped Heidelberg, 7-6. The Muskies, now 4-0, survived a late scare when the Student Princes gambled, and lost, on a two-point conversion pass.

Capital had too much for Marietta, 38-7. Wittenberg overpowered Baldwin-Wallace, 31-7, at the range on Route 39.

South Side Beaten, 27-0 By Laurel

Carl Drespling, a hard charging fullback, scored two touchdowns in sparking Laurel to a 27-0 victory over South Side Saturday on the South Side gridiron.

The loss left the Rams with a 2-3-1 record.

All four Laurel touchdowns came on long touchdown drives with Drespling going four yards for one and two for his second tally.

Dave Wellman added one on a four yard plunge and Jack Zeigler scored from the one.

The alert Laurel defense intercepted four South Side passes to halt drives by the Rams.

Ward Scores 2 TD's

Crestview Trips Southern

Ray Ward raced for touchdowns of 60 and 25 yards to lead visiting Crestview to its second win of the season in a 25-6 victory over Southern Local Saturday night.

Southern, with one victory in six starts, appeared on its way to win No. 2 after scoring in the first period when Ray Stewart took a pass from John McCord.

Crestview bounced back when Ward dashed 25 yards in the second period when McBride's placement gave the Rebels a 7-6 lead.

Ward added a 60-yard touchdown run in the third period followed by a touchdown pass from McLaughlin to Ron Leedy.

Howard Fitzsimmons scored the final touchdown on a five yard burst.

Mele Given New 2-Year Contract And Big Raise

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Minnesota Twins Manager Sam Mele, "very happy" with the terms of a new two-year contract, plans to start thinking soon about strengthening his infield for next season.

Mele, back home after the Twins' defeat by the Los Angeles Dodgers in a seven-game World Series struggle, has two priority items on his agenda, however.

His wife is expecting their fifth child. Mele plans to look after her and at the same time, watch the progress of the Georgian-style house the couple is building down the street from their present home.

It was reported in Minneapolis that Mele will receive about $47,000 annually under the first two-year contract offered a Twins' manager. He received an estimated $37,000 in each of the two past seasons.

Mele, reached at his home in this city south of Boston, would not comment on the amount but said the contract provided for a substantial raise and "Mr. Griffith treated me very fairly."

The Twins' pilot said club owner Calvin Griffith quoted a salary figure to him before he left Minneapolis Friday. Mele asked for more time and a third figure was agreed upon in a

Charleston Rated No.1 In West Virginia

By The Associated Press
Charleston's stunning 13-7 victory over Dunbar last weekend propelled the Mountain Lions into the No. 1 spot in West Virginia high school football.

Oak Glen Is Listed

Among Top In AAA

Oak Glen, with victories in its last five games with a 6-1 record overall was listed among the top 16 teams in the Class AAA ratings this week.

Charleston earned the lofty position in ratings released today by the State Secondary School Activities Commission by beating a team which hadn't lost since the 1963 season.

And the loss all but eliminated Dunbar from the list of Class AAA playoff probables.

Charleston, meanwhile, travels to Parkersburg this week for one of the top games in state high school football. The Mountain Lions take a 6-0 record against the Big Reds, who are unrated.

Bluefield's Beavers, looking more like playoff material each week, are rated second among the big schools after an easy 26-0 victory over Beckley last Friday. Bluefield, now 7-0, takes on South Charleston this week.

Another big clash this week pits third-rated Buckhannon against fourth-ranked Fairmont East. Both teams are undefeated in seven games. Buckhannon trounced Clarksburg W-1 27-0 in its last outing, while Fairmont East whipped Grafton 19-7.

Clarksburg Victory, 7-0 for the campaign and rated fifth, plays Summersville 6-1 Friday. St. Albans, 5-1, rated sixth, has an open date.

Victory swamped Morgantown 25-7 last week, while St. Albans handed Du Pont its first loss, 9-2.

In other contests involving rated schools this week, Dunbar, dropped into a seventh-place tie with Logan by losing to Charleston, takes on Class AA Pocahontas. Logan meets Huntington at home and eighth-ranked Martinsburg plays Boonesboro, Md.

Ceredo-Kenova, the Class AA leader again this week, had an open date last Friday, but the Wayne Wonders return to action Friday against Russell, Ky.

Ripley, No. 2 in the intermediate classification, plays Sissonville, and Oceana, ranked third, is host to Trap Hill.

Masontown Valley, the front-runner in Class A, downed Northern of Accident, Md., 13-7 last Friday, while second-ranked Crum defeated Baileysville 28-6.

Cager Isn't Stopped

By Fractured Wrist

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gus Johnson fractured his left wrist in the first quarter of Sunday night's game against the Cincinnati Royals, but the scrappy Baltimore forward came back before the contest was over. Cincinnati won the National Basketball Association game, 144-124.

Johnson complained about a pain in his left wrist when he went up to the free throw line after being fouled a few minutes after the game started. He missed the shot and was sent to a hospital. The game was still going on when Johnson returned with a light cast on one arm.

Coach Paul Seymour put him in for about five minutes of the final quarter, with the Bullets trailing by 20 points. Johnson made several field goal attempts and missed all of them.

It was the Royals' first victory after two defeats. The Bullets have yet to win a game.

City's Firemen Flush

Overflowing Gasoline

A quantity of gasoline which overflowed from tanks being filled at the Petrosol Service Station at Pennsylvania Ave. and Boyce St. was flushed away by firemen Saturday night.

Firemen said a Petroleum Solvents Co. truck from Vanport was filling the tanks when they overflowed and the gasoline ran into sewers which empty into the East End run. Firemen were called at 8:29.

East End firemen were called to Harvey Ave. and Myrtle St. at 1:20 p.m. Saturday by a false alarm turned in from Box 126.

Ryan Enjoys Best Day Of Pitching

By ROBERT L. SHAFER

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Frank Ryan, the Ph. D. who masterminds the Cleveland Browns' passing attack, had his best day of the season Sunday as he led the Browns to a 23-17 victory over the Dallas Cowboys.

Ryan, who was hampered by a foot injury last week, got off to a slow start but wound up hitting on 14 of 27 pass attempts for 242 yards and one touchdown.

Coach Blanton Collier agreed that the passing "was better than it has been."

Fortunately, the Browns built up a good lead early in the game and held on after the Cowboys came alive under Don Meredith.

The victory kept the Browns tied with St. Louis for the National Football League's Eastern Division lead with four victories and one defeat.

Ryan hit on only one pass—a three-yard toss to Jim Brown—in the first quarter, but a pass interference penalty set up a first-quarter touchdown.

Ryan threw a long, pass intended for Walter Roberts, who was well covered at the Dallas 10, and one of the defenders picked off the ball. However, the officials called interference, and Jim Brown plowed through the line on the next play for the touchdown.

Ryan came through with key passes to move the Browns 82 yards in four plays for a second-quarter touchdown. Leroy Kelly took a pass over the center of the line and raced 52 yards to the Dallas 29. Then Ryan hit Roberts with a 29-yard scoring pass.

Two TD's and Lou Groza's field goal gave the Browns a 17-0 lead before Dallas bounced back and scored in the last two minutes of the half.

A fumble by Kelly after a 44-yard kickoff runback gave Dallas the ball on the Cleveland 47. Meredith passed 42 yards to Frank Clarke, then scored on a pass that was bobbled by one man, touched by a Browns' defender and finally caught by Pettis Norman for a touchdown.

Ryan connected with a 44-yard pass to Roberts in the third period to get the Browns into scoring position again, but the Cowboys held and the Browns had to be satisfied with a second field goal by Groza.

The Browns penetrated the stubborn Dallas defense once more for a 19-yard field goal by Groza in the third period. Their only scoring threat in the final quarter was thwarted when Groza's field goal attempt from the 29 was wide.

It was not until late in the fourth quarter that the Cowboys got close enough to score their Pete Gent on a 20-yard scoring pass for the touchdown with 1:24 left to play.

The Cowboys got their hands on the ball once more, but their final threat ended with Larry Benz' interception of a Meredith pass in Cleveland territory.

Sugar Ray Features Big Steubenville Fight Card

STEUBENVILLE — Sugar Ray Robinson, one of the greatest fighters of all time will face hard-hitting Rudolph Bent the middleweight king of Jamaica in the main event at the Community Arena Wednesday.

Robinson, former welterweight champion and five time middleweight king heads the biggest boxing card ever presented in Steubenville.

On the same card the sensational Cowboy Billy Smith, North American Flyweight champion will defend his title against veteran Carmen Iacabucci of Cincinnati in a 12 rounder. Smith the greatest 112 pounder to come along in years hopes to add the classy Iacabucci, winner of his last two fights to his long list of victims.

Another title fight, this one for the Ohio lightweight title will find Doug Agin, hard-hitting Steubenville slugger who owns a 20-1 record with 13 KO's facing Norman Springs of Cincinnati a former National Golden Glove champion who has won seven and lost one since turning pro.

Robinson, who has signed to fight Joey Archer in Pittsburgh on Nov. 10th, will have his hands full with the hard-hitting Bent who says that he is going "to win so I can fight Archer."

Bent's last three victories have come by KO.

Robinson who says he will retire if he loses to Bent also says that he will be out to win the middleweight title for the sixth time. "I know that I can do it if I can get the champion in the right with me".

The doors will open at 7:00 p.m. and the first fight will get underway at 8:30 p.m.

A four rounder between John Bauer and Herman Dunbar will open the card.

Buckpasser Gets Revenge, Seeks Crown

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
Now that Buckpasser has his revenge on Priceless Gem, the next question in thoroughbred racing is: Will Priceless Gem or Moccasin gain the 2-year-old filly championship.

Buckpasser, beaten by Priceless Gem in the Futurity at Aqueduct several weeks back, just about wrapped up the 2-year-old colt championship by turning the tables on Priceless Gem in the $223,875 Champagne Stakes at the Big A last Saturday.

Priceless Gem, who had her head in front at the head of the stretch, finished sixth as Buckpasser roared up on the outside and won the mile race by four lengths over Our Michael.

The Ogden Phipps colt then survived a claim of foul by Bobby Ussery astride the fourth-place Amberoid to take down $163,875 and boost his earnings to a record $568,096 for 2-year-olds. Advocate was third.

A few minutes after jockey Braulio Baeza had brought Buckpasser home, the unbeaten Moccasin from the Claiborne Farm charged to a 15-length victory in the Alcibiades Stakes at Keeneland.

This set up a possible meeting between Moccasin and Priceless Gem in the Gardenia Stakes at Garden State Park next month to settle any dispute over which is the better filly.

Pope Endorses Action Council Took On Jews

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI endorsed today the Vatican Ecumenical Council's declaration of non-Christians and the Jews. He ordered its promulgation at a public council session Oct. 28.

That means it will become a decree, binding on Roman Catholics, three weeks earlier than expected.

In a working session in St. Peter's Basilica last Friday the assembly of Roman Catholic prelates from around the world voted final approval to the document, which says all Jews cannot be blamed for the crucifixion of Christ.

As a result of this vote, the document needs only the formality of promulgation by Pope and council, in a public session of the council, to become a decree.

The council had scheduled a public session for Oct. 28 for the promulgation of four other decrees approved prior to the vote on the declaration or non-Christians. Council sources said the latter could not be promulgated at the same time because of technical difficulties in getting it printed and in preparing official translations of its Latin language text. They said it would be promulgated at a second public session, probably Nov. 18.

But Pope Paul decided differently today.

The council presently is in recess.

Union Will Vote On Pay Proposal In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — Some 3,700 members of the Communications Workers of America will vote this week on whether to accept a revised work agreement with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co.

Negotiators for the utility and the union agreed Saturday on provisions of a wage reopening clause in the union's three-year contract.

A company spokesman said the proposal calls for wage increases ranging from $2 to $5 weekly and four regional wage schedules in the state instead of seven.

Union members had authorized a strike if the negotiations were unsuccessful.

In 1805, the White House Christmas party was so gay that Thomas Jefferson was moved to play lively tunes on his violin.

300 Attend District Session For Southeastern Ohio Elks

About 300 attended the fall meeting of the Southeast District of the Ohio Elks Association Saturday and Sunday at the home of East Liverpool Lodge 258.

There are 14 lodges in the district with a membership of over 7,900. All lodges were represented, with Martins Ferry Lodge 895 winning the attendance trophy. There were nine past district deputies attending.

Following the welcome by James H. Noble, exalted ruler, the gavel was turned over to Harry Bolen of Cambridge Lodge 448, district chairman.

Other officers include Meryle Kenny of the Wellsville lodge, vice chairman; Lee Gates of Steubenville Lodge 231, secretary, and James M. Eccleston of East Liverpool, treasurer.

Candidates from East Liverpool and Newcomerstown were initiated by a ritualistic team from seven District lodges. Robert Taylor East Liverpool was the ensquire on the team. Honored guests were District Deputy Avery D. Carpenter of Zanesville Lodge 114 and Mike Letzelter of the Steubenville, second vice president of the Ohio Elks Association. Four members from Rochester Lodge 283 and Youngstown Lodge 55, who are not members of the district, also were guests.

The district deputy gave the 11 o'clock toast in the ballroom Saturday night and Robert Kennedy of the Dover lodge, district ritualistic chairman, gave the toast in the grill room.

The Lady Elks served steak dinners Saturday night and also breakfast on Sunday morning. While the men were attending the session Sunday afternoon, the Lady Elks entertained the visiting women with a style show.

The Lady Elks, with Mrs. Paul Betteridge, president, and her committee were in charge of the buffet lunch. Russel Turner, inner guard, had charge of the hotel and motel reservations and the Lady Elks had charge of the registration desk.

Library Story Hours To Begin Wednesday

Mrs. Hilda McEwen, children's librarian at Carnegie Public Library, said today the annual 18th six-week session of story hours at the library will begin Wednesday morning at 10. The program will continue every Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., through Nov. 24. Each story session will last about an hour.

Children four to six are eligible to be enrolled and only a few vacancies remain, Mrs. McEwen said. They must be registered to attend, as space is limited, she said.

Mrs. McEwen will be assisted by Mrs. W. G. Billingsley, Mrs. J. W. Hayes and Mrs. M. E. Tri-guba.

As far back as the 18th Century, two Swiss watchmakers built three incredible dolls that still write, draw and play for visitors to the History Museum in Neuchatel, Switzerland.

Franklin Loses 2 Road Markers

SUMMITVILLE — The theft of a stop sign and a crossroads warning sign were reported at a meeting of the Franklin Township trustees Saturday.

The stop sign, already replaced, and the warning sign were taken last week from the intersection of Township Rds. 729 and 847, a mile south of St. John's Catholic Church.

Forrest Thompson, president, reported a second application of calcium chloride has been put on parts on three roads—Road 845, County Line Rd and Road 729.

Thompson said the berms along the blacktop roads have been mowed for the third time this year. Usually the berms require only two mowings. Slag is being stockpiled for the winter by Ernest Phillips, road supervisor.

Bills totaling $559 were paid. George McPherson was absent. The next meeting will be Nov. 6.

Council Meeting Set

SUMMITVILLE — Routine business is scheduled at a meeting of Council Thursday night at 8 at the Franklin Township Hall, Mayor Ernest Phillips said.

Registration Opened For Farmer Training

SALEM — Today marks the beginning of a week-long registration at the Salem office of the Ohio State Employment Service for farmers interested in a training program.

The Columbiana County Technical Action Panel requested the Salem office consider conducting a training program in farm business management and analysis under the Manpower Development and Training Act.

To determine the extent of interest, any owner or operator of a Columbiana County farm who would like to enroll in a training program may register at the Salem office at 130 Penn Ave., from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. today through Friday.

A Prodigal Son Returns

A woman spotted Franchot Tone coming into a restaurant the other day and gasped to her companion, "Migawsh! He looks like Father Time!"

Tone does walk with a weary stoop and sports a Van Dyke beard, but, like Pablo in Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls," he is not easily provoked.

Had he overheard the Father Time remark, it is likely he would have been more amused than irritated. He tells the joke on himself about the wisecrack who, when he first saw Tone in Ben Casey this season, cracked, "Hey, he's taken Zorba's hair and put it on his chin."

"ACTUALLY," says Tone, "I started the beard for a 'Virginian' TV episode in which I played an elderly and deteriorating cowboy, and I was so relieved at not having to shave that I decided to keep it. Later I went to Winnipeg, Canada, to do 'Witness for the Prosecution' and the part required a beard, so I kept it."

Since replacing Sam (Dr. Zorba) Jaffe as chief of neurosurgery at Ben Casey's Metropolitan Hospital, Tone hasn't done much more than hold Dr. Casey's scalp, and that was the big reason for Jaffe's leaving the role.

Tone admits he's been in the operating room only once since taking over, but says he was guaranteed only 7 of the first 13 episodes.

"I WOULD LIKE to do more," he adds. "I like the work, and it's a wonderful way to spend a certain amount of time."

The veteran of 100 or more movies (he's 60 now) goes back to his New York home after each Casey segment and apparently has no desire to return to Hollywood on a permanent basis.

Riding along Sunset Strip the other day, Tone sighed with amazement at the changes he's seen since that day in 1932 when he arrived from the New York stage for an MGM movie contract.

"This was a cow trail when I first saw it," he says, with a chuckle. "Come to think of it, one of the first pictures I did was about a doctor at a general hospital. Eric von Stroheim directed and it was called 'Between Two Women.' Maureen O'Sullivan and Virginia Bruce were the two women I was supposed to be between."

HOLLYWOOD was drafting actors from New York still, because the advent of "talkies" had left the studios bereft of stars whose voices didn't sound like squeaky gates or whose diction wasn't beyond repair.

One actress who wasn't felled by having to talk during this cataclysmic period was Joan Crawford, whom Tone married in 1935. The day I saw Tone, Miss Crawford was in town rehearsing for her recent "Hollywood Palace" appearance, and he planned to have dinner with her.

Tone remembers it was necessary for a doctor to be in the "Radio Theater" shows in which they costarred. Usually on the verge of physical nausea just from nerves, she would ask the producer for permission to sit at a table while reading her lines.

"I THINK she's over that now," Tone reports. "She's doing a great public relations job for Pepsi-Cola — makes a lot of speeches and works hard."

They were divorced in 1939, but are good friends. Tone insisted his new ABC-TV biography include that he is proud of his continued friendship with his former wife.

When in New York and Quebec, where Tone maintains another home, he spends time with his two sons, 20 and 22, by Jean Wallace, from whom he was divorced in 1948. He likes to hunt and fish as hobbies.

Most of the interesting movie stories are being done abroad now, especially in Italy and England, Tone believes. Hollywood is working too much to formula, in his opinion. He hardly ever watches TV.

"I guess I'll have to now, to see how the Ben Casey stories end. I'm sure, though," he adds, "that Casey wins out."

Deaths and Funerals

Robert Lutton Jr.

Robert I. Lutton Jr., 161 Verona St., died at City Hospital Sunday after a long illness. He was 45.

A son of Robert I. and Flora (Gamble) Lutton of East Liverpool, Mr. Lutton lived here his entire life. He was a checker at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland 23 years, working last on Oct. 2. He was a member of United Steel Workers Local 1212.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Geraldine M. Lutton, at home; two sons, Robert I. Lutton III and Gary L. Lutton, a daughter, Mrs. Larry (Connie) Banfield, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Bessie I. Gamble, all of East Liverpool.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. John Stilts of the Orchard Grove Methodist Church.

Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and evening.

Wilmer Burt

COLUMBIANA — Wilmer C. Burt, 80, of R. D. 2, a retired machinist and farmer, died early this morning at Salem City Hospital. He had been ill with a heart condition.

A native of East Palestine, Mr. Burt was born June 1, 1885, to the late Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Burt. He was a member of the Church of Christ. He was married in 1906 to the former Louella McBurney, who survives at the home.

He also leaves three sons, Harlen Burt of R.D., Sherril Burt of Stow, Ohio, Galt Burt of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; a sister, Mrs. Anna Kintner of Youngstown, and one grandson.

Services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Warrick Funeral Home by the Rev. Clarence Mansfield. Burial will be in Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Nora Stanley

Mrs. Nora Lillian Stanley, 98, of Alliance, a former resident of the East Liverpool area, died Saturday evening at Alliance City Hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Stanley was born in Carmel and was the last of a family of seven children. She had lived in Alliance since 1925. She was a member of the First Christian Church of Alliance.

She leaves a son, Dillwyn M. Stanley Jr. of Alliance, three grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren. Her husband, Dillwyn M. Stanley, died Oct. 11, 1947.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Sharer Funeral Home in Alliance. Burial will be in East Carmel Cemetery in Rogers.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Helen McKenty

Mrs. Helen Stewart McKenty, 329 Louisiana Ave., Chester, widow of Robert McKenty, died Sunday morning at the Weston State Hospital after a brief illness.

She was born in Pughtown to the late W. Breckenridge Stewart, who was a former postmaster in Chester, and Eliza Jane Nicholson Stewart. She worked for a number of years at the Chester post office. She was a member of the Chester First Christian Church. Her husband died Oct. 6, 1934.

Her only survivors are nephews and nieces.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Chester Arner Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Robert H. Schoneimayer. Burial will be in Mill Creek Hill Cemetery in Hookstown.

Friends may call at the Chester Chapel this afternoon and evening and Tuesday up to the time of the services.

The only known memorial to Capt. William Bligh of "Bounty" fame, is in Tahiti, a specially planted breadfruit tree and bronze plaque honoring "a great explorer and navigator."

District Lists Few Mishaps For Weekend

Despite the heavy traffic Sunday as motorists viewed the autumn foliage or visited throughout the area, there were few mishaps, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Two accidents took place yesterday in the Substation and Cannons Mills area of Route 30.

A 1955 sedan operated by Roger Dale Douglass, 17, of Weirton veered off the road a way about a half mile south of Route 7 at 12:15 p.m. and struck a road marker sign, causing light damage.

A semi-trailer truck driven by Harold Watts, 43, of Pittsburgh struck the rear of a 1964 sedan operated by Carl Filipponi, 45, of Burgettstown, Pa., about two miles south of Route 7 at 9:05 a.m.

Filipponi had slowed for traffic ahead when the mishap took place, officers said. Watts was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Ruth Lee Wilkinson, 22, of Lisbon R.D. 5 reported to the patrol Saturday her car struck a woman pedestrian at Glenmoor, but the woman apparently was unhurt. The incident occurred at 9:35 p.m.

The driver said she made a left turn at the intersection of Routes 267 and County Rd. 424 and the pedestrian walked from behind a parked auto. The driver said the woman told her she was unhurt and departed without identifying herself.

Ralph W. DeLong, 40, of 230 Sherman St., Lisbon, escaped injury early Saturday morning when his car skidded past a stop sign at County Rds. 411 and 410 and went into a field. He said he did not see a stop sign because of fog. He was charged with failure to halt for a stop sign.

Court Orders Physical Test For Motorist

Sentencing of an elderly city man whose auto struck a Highway Department flagman on the Chester Bridge was continued today until next Monday by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who asked the defendant to submit the results of a physical examination, including an eye test, to the court.

Willis W. Campbell, 73, of 1030 Bradshaw Ave. pleaded "no contest" when arraigned on the charge filed by the State Highway Patrol alleging that he "failed to obey a traffic control device, to wit: a flagman directing traffic."

After hearing testimony from Campbell, Judge Chertoff asked the defendant to take the physical and eye examinations and turn in the results.

Campbell was cited last Tuesday night by the patrol after he allegedly ignored the stop signal from one flagman and struck another flagman, Russell Sage Wilson, 61, of Wellsville R. D. 1, fracturing his left leg in two places.

Wilson is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

Roger L. Gearin, 22, of 1631 Park Ave. was given a suspended 10-day jail term today on a charge of driving without an operator's license.

Judge Chertoff ordered the suspended term on the condition that Gearin does not drive for six months. Gearin had an application for a permit, but apparently had failed the examination.

He was cited Friday night after his auto skidded into a parked car on Gaston St.

William Vuletic of Smiths Ferry forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of crashing a traffic signal at Bradshaw Ave. and Walnut St. at 1:10 a.m. Saturday.

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remove white stains left on furniture by water or alcohol?

A.—One quick method is to rub over them with a damp cloth dipped into cigarette ashes, the ashes acting as a sort of pumice. Rub gently until the stains disappear, wipe with a clean damp cloth, then apply your favorite furniture polish or wax.

Q.—How can I easily drive a tack or small nail into a very difficult place where it is almost impossible to hold it with the fingers?

A.—Thrust the tack or nail through a little strip of stiff paper, and hold the end of the paper while hammering.

Q.—What causes a cake to rise in the center and not around its edges?

A.—Usually a too-hot oven.

A Junior Editors Quiz About
LEAVES

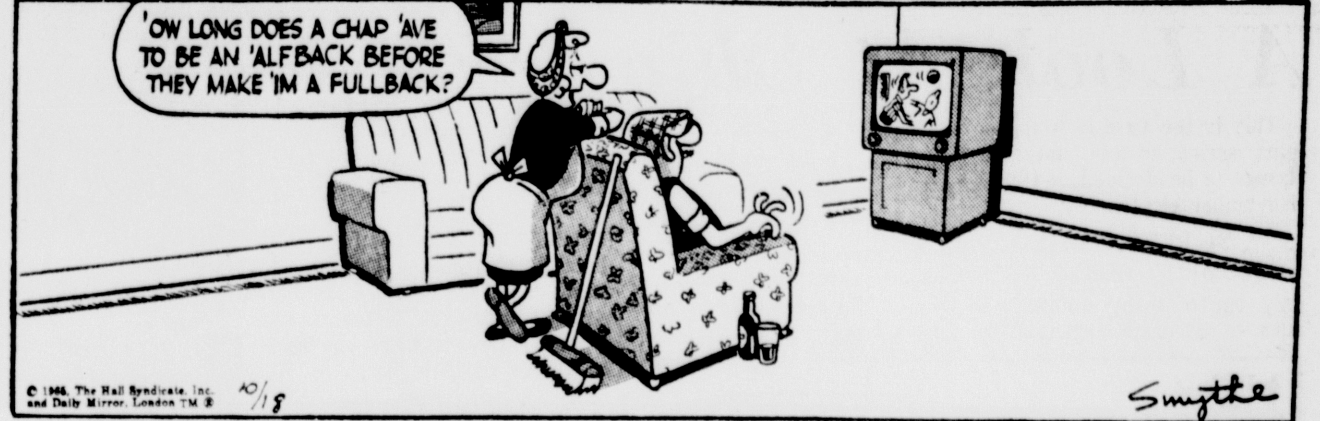

QUESTION: Why do the leaves get bright colors in the fall?

ANSWER: In (1) we see three maple leaves with their slender stems, or petioles. Water and material from the soil, needed by the leaves in their vital job of making food for the trees, come up through the twigs and petioles. In summer, this passageway is clear. But as the nip of fall comes, the broad-leaved trees seem to realize that weather is coming which will be too cold for their leaves to go on working; that it is time for these little green factories to close up shop. Accordingly, (2) a row of cork-like cells grows across the base of the petiole, completely shutting off the leaf's water supply. Now the leaf loses its green, because the green chlorophyll cells, deprived of water, have died. But the leaf shows other colors: brilliant yellow or red or rich brown. Where did these colors come from? Botanists tell us that these colors, caused by various chemicals in the leaves, were there all the time, but were hidden by the green. With the passing of the green chlorophyll, these other colors were revealed. But soon even these bright colors begin to fade. A day comes when the now withered leaf snaps cleanly off its twig at the point where the cork cells formed and flutters down (4). Summer is over.

FOR YOU TO DO: Take a walk on a fine fall day and pick up the gayest colored leaves, arranging them in your hand like a deck of cards. Then study the amazing variety and beauty of the color combinations you will see. No tapestry or carpet, no matter how expensive, could be as rich as this.

Virginia Coleman of Midland Park, N. J., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Monday, Oct. 18, the 291st day of 1965. There are 74 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1921, the United States Senate ratified peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary.
On this date
In 1867, the United States formally completed the purchase of Alaska.
In 1892, the first direct telephone line opened between New York and Chicago.
In 1918, Allied forces took the Belgian port of Ostend.
In 1942, German troops occupied a block of buildings in Stalingrad.

In 1945, 24 high-ranking Nazis were indicted in Berlin as having conspired against World peace.
Ten years ago — The Federal Communications Commission authorized the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to begin work on the Air Force's aircraft warning system.
Five years ago — Prince Souvanna Phouma, the neutralist premier of Laos, announced that he had placed Capt. Kong Le, the young paratrooper officer who brought the Souvanna regime to power, under technical arrest.
One year ago — Pope Paul VI announced he would fly to Bombay, India, in December to attend the World Eucharistic Congress.

Stirs Storm Of Controversy

A Look At Ohio Issue 1

This is the first in a three-part series on the statewide issues to be decided at Ohio's November election.

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Ohio — The only one of three statewide issues to generate organized opposition is a proposal to raise more money for public schools. It has spawned a storm of controversy.

The proposal will appear on election ballots as Issue 1, a change in state law to increase Ohio's 3 per cent sales tax to 4 per cent. A majority of those voting Nov. 2 is required for approval.

TEN SCHOOL groups forming the Ohio Council for Educational Progress, called PEP, would change the public school foundation law enacted by the 1965 legislature after lawmakers rejected the initiated PEP plan.

One change would eliminate an administration guarantee in the new law of $200 annual pay increases for teachers over their salaries last year.

The PEP proposal contains a teacher pay increase factor, but actual payment would be determined by local boards of education which could use higher classroom allowances for other school purposes.

PRESENT LAW specifies a minimum aid guarantee of $2,450 for each unit comprised of 30 pupils and a teacher, compared with about $2,600 per classroom unit under PEP.

Present law also provides for Ohio to participate in federal aid to education, estimated at $50 million annually for Ohio school districts. PEP would carry no specific provision for participation.

PEP would require the state to pay school districts $35 annually for each pupil in programs for the culturally deprived and increase support for vocational education.

Each school district under present law is required to establish a vocational education program by July 1, 1967. After that date, pupils cannot drop out unless they have completed a vocational or special education program preparing them for employment.

Under the current law, state subsidies to schools are paid each month instead of quarterly, as was done previously. The PEP plan would restore subsidy payments every three months.

SPONSORS OF the PEP plan

term financial provisions of the new school law inadequate.

The law appropriates $630 million for the two-year period started last July 1, an increase of $108 million over the previous biennium. The tax increase under the PEP plan would provide at last $232 million over the two-year period.

All of the additional sales tax revenue would go into the state general fund, but PEP advocates say spending called for in the proposed plan would be obligated so that earmarking for schools is not required.

Officials assert that increased spending for schools provided in the newly adopted law covers some PEP proposals, making available to the state an extra $60 million from the sales tax increase above school requirements under PEP.

The council for education obtained more than 131,000 signatures over the state to place the proposed PEP law before the legislature. Following its rejection, the council garnered another batch of names to put PEP on election ballots.

Takes Own Life

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Col. Luis Ramos Fuentes, a one-time top aide of former Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista, died Sunday of a bullet wound in the head. He shot himself and left a note saying he despaired of returning home, police said.

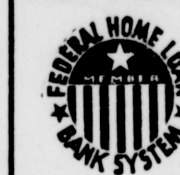

Common Market Nations May Go Without France

STRASBOURG, France (AP)—Representatives of Socialist parties from the six Common Market nations said today that if France continues her boycott of the Common Market, her five partners should push ahead without her.

The call came in a communique following a weekend meeting of about 30 Socialist party officials from France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. About 30 officials took part in the meeting.

France has been boycotting most Common Market meetings since the end of June following a breakdown in negotiations for a common agricultural policy, which France wants, and a degree of political integration, which France doesn't want.

13 Ask To Take Meter Maid Test

Thirteen women filed applications before the deadline Saturday to take a Municipal Civil Service Commission examination for city meter maid posts Thursday night, P. K. Calhoun, secretary, said today.

The commission will screen the applications before conducting the test for the job, which pays $1.72 hourly.

Only one position is open at present, the commission said, explaining the test is being conducted to establish an eligibility list from which Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vordrey may name a replacement for Mrs. Ruth Fetty, who resigned earlier.

Two substitutes also are needed to work part-time during vacations and other absences of regulars.

Three men are scheduled to take a test tonight at City Hall for city truck drivers' jobs. The posts pay $2.14 hourly.

Hearing Set For Man Who Wounded 2 Girls

ALIQUIPPA — James McClimans, Independence Township farmer charged with wounding two teen-age girls when he fired a shotgun at three cars on his property Friday, is slated for a hearing Wednesday before Independence Township Justice of the Peace P. H. Ulmer.

McClimans is charged with assault with intent to maim after discharging a 20-gauge shotgun at three carloads of teenagers on his 26-acre property late Friday.

Injured in the shooting were Miss Marilyn Davis and Miss Debbie Williams, both of Hopewell. Miss Davis is receiving treatment at Pittsburgh Eye and Ear Hospital for wounds of the face. Miss Williams was treated at Aliquippa Hospital.

Scottish Rite Masons

Banquet Attracts 130

About 130 attended a banquet of the East Liverpool Association of Scottish Rite Masons Saturday night at the Masonic Temple.

Guests attended from Steubenville, Lisbon, Wellsville and Conneaut, Pa.

John E. Everhart, association president, was toastmaster. The invocation was given by the Rev. Allen R. Conway, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Entertainment was provided by a Beaver County vocal group known as "The Grasshoppers."

4 Motorists Charged

By Salineville Officer

SALINEVILLE — Four motorists were cited for violation of stop sign regulations at E. Main St. and Route 39 Sunday. Police Chief Ray Keister reported.

Cited yesterday by Deputy Marshal Gordon Sweeney were Hugh C. Cover of Poland, Edward Morgan of Youngstown, Edward Urschler of Columbiana and Roy Householder of Toronto. They are due hearings Thursday before Mayor Stanley Fitch.

Loss Of $200 Listed

As Chester Car Drifts

Chester police reported today an auto owned by James A. Dennis of Laurel Heights drifted some 300 feet from its parking place on Montana Ave. sometime during the night into the yard adjacent to the home of Harold Robinson, 134 Indiana Ave.

Patrolman Audley Campbell said he was notified of the incident about 6:45 a.m. He estimated $150 damage to Dennis's 1963 car and about $50 property damage to children's swings and sliding boards in the yard.

Campbell said the emergency brake of the car had been set, but had worked loose on the grade.

Between 70,000 and 80,000 families are displaced each year because of public construction projects, including urban renewal work, public housing and road building activity.
